Attack Pass, Supply Route To South

B52s Pound North Viet For Second Time In War

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force B52s pounded North Viet Nam for the second time in the war today, again attacking the Mu Gia Pass on the supply route to the south.

In their first raid on the Communist north 15 days ago, the Strategic Air Command's eight-engine planes dropped 700 tons of bombs which set off landslides that reportedly closed the pass. But a week later U.S. spokesmen said North Vietnamese workers had reopened the mountain roadway and men and supplies for the Viet Cong were again able to get through.

The U.S. spokesman said no assessment had been made yet of the damage inflicted today by the raid on the mountain gateway on the Laotian frontier 230 miles south of Hanoi.

While the long-range American bombers from Guam struck the north, Viet Cong terrorists singled out a new target in a month-long wave of violence in Saigon. A powerful mine exploded in the midst of civilian construction workers, killing eight South Koreans and three Vietnamese and injuring more than 40 persons, including some children.

In the ground war, the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and the Marines continued two major searches for the Viet Cong, but so far reported only meager results.

After four days of scouring the jungles north of Tay Ninh City, 50 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian frontier, the "Big Red One" reported killing 15 Viet Cong and capturing 570 tons of rice in Operation Birmingham.

The Marines said they had killed 31 Viet Cong since they started Operation Georgia seven days ago in Quang Nam Province south of Da Nang, 380 miles northeast of Saigon.

Patrols of the U.S. 25th Division killed 10 guerrillas and captured eight enemy weapons in skirmishes in the Ho Bo Woods a few miles northwest of Saigon, a spokesman said. He said U.S. casualties were light.

A Viet Cong battalion paid dearly for an attack on Dai Do, a government outpost 43 miles southeast of Saigon, Tuesday night. The guerrillas also attacked two nearby Vietnamese platoons, inflicting moderate casualties, a Vietnamese spokesman said.

The Viet Cong left behind 78 bodies after they were driven off by close air strikes and artillery fire, a Vietnamese spokesman said.

The Communists captured a hamlet chief and inflicted moderate casualties on a militia platoon in an attack on a small town near the Gulf of Siam, the government spokesman said.

On the confused Vietnamese political scene, more than 1,000 persons staged an anti-Communist, pro-American rally in the Roman Catholic village of Tam Toa, on the outskirts of Da Nang. The villagers also protested a grenade incident on April 19 in which four Catholics were injured during a similar rally. They demanded action from the authorities.

Da Nang and other northern cities were virtually under the control of Buddhist and dissident military elements during the recent unrest which has calmed down since a pledge by the government to hold national elections within five months.

Chester Area Faces Power Interruption

Electric service to nearly 1,000 residential and industrial customers of the Monongahela Power Co. in the Chester area will be interrupted Sunday to permit repairs to transmission lines as a result of vandalism, officials of the utility said today.

Several high voltage insulators, shot off by persons using rifles, are to be replaced during the shutdown, Walter Jordan, Chester manager for the utility, said. Jordan said the company "regrets the inconvenience and the expense to the customers as a result of the shutdown," pointing out the suspension of power is the second in a year as a result of vandalism.

Officials said the matter is being investigated by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department. The power shutoff is set for 7:30 to 9:30 a. m.

In event of inclement weather which would prevent crews from working, the interruption will be rescheduled for May 8.

The insulators are located on a 12,000-volt system which was installed only a year ago.

The areas to be affected include the east end of Chester from Route 30 at Carolina Ave. to Lawrenceville, Little Blue Rd. to the Pennsylvania line, all customers along Route 2 from Route 30 south to Tomlinson Run State Park, the area north and east of Gas Valley Rd., Shepherd's Valley, Fairview Rd. and Middle Run Rd.

Industries which will be affected will include the Harker China Co., Taylor Smith & Taylor Co., T. K. Roofing Co., National Church Supply Co. and the Chester waterworks.

U.S. Has Refrained From Strikes

North Viet May Risk Key Airfields In Plane Duels

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Viet Nam may be risking its key military air fields in the Hanoi-Haiphong area by sending its MIG jets to duel with U.S. raiders.

So far the United States has refrained from hitting three air bases which are home to about 75 North Vietnamese MIG jet fighters and IL28 bombers.

The U.S. Air Force has wanted to strike at these bases and the planes on them.

But decision-making officials have been reluctant to approve any such operation until and unless the Communist jets become troublesome.

A rash of dogfights since late last week suggest that point may be approaching, although U.S. officials are not yet certain whether the pattern will continue. They are watching to see if the Communist jets come up again.

High military authorities have said they are confident that the MIG fields can be taken out by U.S. bombers over a short period of assault.

This could be a job for B52 bombers which so far have not been committed in North Viet Nam except for a single massive raid aimed at blocking an important pass.

The jet fields fall clearly in the realm of military targets. Officials are convinced there was nothing accidental about the MIG sorties in the vicinity of U.S. raiding planes over the past several days.

"They're coming out," said one officer.

But there is only speculation as to why the North Vietnamese would choose to risk their few warplanes, especially MIG21s.

North Viet Nam has only 10 to 15 MIG21s, fastest and best in its air force. One was shot down Tuesday by a U.S. Air Force F4C Phantom which killed the MIG with a heat-seeking Sidewinder missile.

Air Force officers said that, as good as the MIG21 is acknowledged to be, it could be overwhelmed if the United States chose to go after the MIGs with large numbers of high performance American jets.

Hundreds of Air Force and Navy jets are available in the Viet Nam theater. Most of the North Vietnamese MIGs are older models which, it is believed, would have difficulty standing up to the best American planes.

One officer suggested the MIG forays occurred because the North Vietnamese were stung by a recent series of air attacks which came close to Hanoi and Haiphong, and by the mounting intensity of U.S. air operations in the north.

MIG Pilots Seen North Vietnamese

American Airmen Assume They Are Trained By Soviet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — American airmen in Saigon assume that the MIG jets they are encountering over North Viet Nam are flown by North Vietnamese pilots trained by the Soviet Union.

U.S. officials here also assume that the MIGs are operating from bases in North Viet Nam, not in Red China.

"The assumption is that the pilots are North Vietnamese," said one qualified U.S. officer who has access to intelligence reports. "We have no reason to believe they are Chinese, or even Russians."

He added that he had no information on whether the Chinese possessed any of the Delta-wing MIG21s.

American fliers have clashed three times with the late-model MIGs over North Viet Nam since Saturday. One encounter occurred 35 miles from the Red Chinese frontier, giving rise to speculation that the Soviet-designed jets could be operating from China.

Official American spokesmen here say they have no information to suggest that the MIGs came from China. U.S. officials say the North Vietnamese have about 15 of the MIG21s and about 45 more of the older model MIG17s, which also tangled with American jets over the weekend.

Officials say most of the MIGs are based at the Phuc Yen military airfield at Hanoi, which so far has not been bombed by American planes. The airfield reportedly is protected by a concentration of missile sites equipped with surface-to-air missiles supplied by the Soviet Union.

Rent Subsidy Fund Battle Set In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces plan an all-out push on the Senate floor today to restore funds for a controversial rent subsidy program.

Democratic leaders were stung by a surprise 15-12 appropriations committee vote Monday to eliminate the $12 million rent allotment from a supplemental money bill. They worked feverishly in advance of the floor showdown to nail down the needed votes.

And they had substantial help from the White House. President Johnson repeatedly has endorsed the rent supplement plan as a key weapon in the battle to provide decent housing for low income families.

Under the plan, the federal government would pay the difference between 25 per cent of a family's income and the rent for adequate housing in projects built and operated by nonprofit organizations. None of the subsidies would go to individual, private landlords.

Crucible Steel Orders 2 New Oxygen Converters

The Crucible Steel Co. announced today it has signed a contract to install two new top blown oxygen converters at its Midland works for the production of stainless and alloy steels.

The new converters employ the same principle as the basic oxygen furnace, but the installation has been designed particularly for the specialty steel firm's product line.

CRUCIBLE plans to produce chromium - bearing pig iron from chromium ore in one of its blast furnaces.

The multi - product molten product will be used as feed for the stainless steel process.

"Research and development work has demonstrated that many stainless grades can be produced in facilities such as we have now authorized," Joel Hunter, Crucible president, said. "When the complex is completed, we envision a continuous process from ore to slabs, with significant savings in both production time and costs," he added.

The new process, when fully operative will supplant older steel - making furnaces at the Midland Works, the firm said. An efficient dust - collecting apparatus will be installed as an integral part of the new facility and the firm expects air pollution from steel - making at Midland to be materially abated.

No estimate was given of the effect on employment at the Midland plant, but the experience in introducing other innovations at the plant has been that displaced workers have found other employment there, primarily because of resultant increases in production.

DRACO CORP. of Pittsburgh has been awarded the contract to build the new facility on a "turn key" basis. Cost was not disclosed.

The new equipment is expected to be in operation in 1968. The new facility at Midland will be housed in a building to be constructed immediately north of the continuous casting plant between the open hearth department and the stock yard. The shop will consist of two 70/90-ton vessels and auxiliary equipment.

To keep one vessel operating at all times, the second is necessary to permit three to five days re-lining time. Also included will be alloy and flux storage facilities and the necessary distribution systems to supply the blowing vessel. A motorized car operating at ground level will be used to deliver scrap in three pre-weighted boxes to the open hearth building.

These boxes then will be transferred by crane to a tilt body type scrap charging car which will put the scrap into the vessel. Liquid chrome metal from the No. Three Blast Furnace will be

Approval Due Contract For Coal Miners

Would End Strike; $1 Or More Daily Pay Boost Likely

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mine workers' representatives vote today on a contract agreement aimed at ending a strike involving more than half the nation's 100,000 soft coal miners. Sources predict approval.

The contract reportedly gives all miners a raise of $1 or more in daily pay, retroactive to April 1. This would be slightly in excess of the administration's 3.2 per cent wage guidelines.

An estimated 23,000 miners were awaiting approval of the contract by the 200-member national policy committee of the United Mine Workers before returning to work.

As many as 60,000 miners were off the job during the two-week walkout, the industry's largest in 15 years. Thousands of them heeded a back-to-work plea from union officials and returned to the pits pending a final agreement.

Contract terms were worked out last weekend by union President W. A. (Tony) Boyle and Edward G. Fox, president of the Bituminous Coal Operators Association.

Directors of the association ratified the agreement Monday. Tuesday, the Southern Coal Producers Association took similar action. Companies belonging to the two associations employ about 80,000 miners.

The strike began April 11, three days after the union and three major independent producers signed a contract calling for an immediate wage hike of

Bonn Minister Plans Talk With McNamara

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German Defense Minister Kai-Uwe von Hassel is flying to London to talk with U.S. Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara and three other leaders of the Atlantic alliance Thursday and Friday about nuclear weapons, the Defense Ministry announced today.

The defense ministers of Britain, Italy and Turkey also will take part in the talks, the ministry said. A spokesman said they would concern the use of tactical nuclear weapons now under command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

ICC Rejects Another

Pennsy And NYC Merger Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interstate Commerce Commission unanimously approved today the merger of the Pennsylvania and New York Central railroads—the biggest merger in U.S. history.

But it rejected by a 6-5 vote another merger plan that would have created the nation's longest railroad.

The ICC, ordered the new Eastern rail giant to take over all operations — passenger and freight — of the bankrupt New Haven Railroad.

The decision was made April 6 but not disclosed until today.

By handing down one of its rare merger vetoes in an age of continuing rail consolidation, the ICC turned aside the bid of the Great Northern, Northern Pacific, and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy to merge, taking over two smaller railroads, into a 25,000-mile system stretching from Chicago to the West Coast.

The Penn-Central case has been before the commission since March 9, 1962; the Great Northern case since Feb. 17, 1961. Twelve merger cases are pending before the commission, including the recently proposed merger of the Chesapeake & Ohio and Norfolk & Western systems.

Approval of the mergers by the commission on the same day would represent a high-water mark in a relentless railroad merger trend of the past decade.

Until today, the commission had approved 26 of 48 unification proposals since 1955, denying but four. Others were withdrawn or deferred by the railroads involved, leaving only the 12 pending.

It has been 13 months since ICC examiners Jerome K. Lyle and Henry C. Darmstadter recommended approval of the Penn-Central merger to the full commission. Twenty months have elapsed since examiner Robert H. Murphy endorsed the Northern lines case and passed it on to the commission.

While other big merger cases

Historic Meeting At Vatican

Pope, Soviet Aide Agree To Seek Peace In World

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Paul VI and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko held a historic meeting today and agreed to work together for world peace.

The Pope received Gromyko in a private audience and talked with him for 45 minutes. It was the first papal audience ever given a minister of a Communist government.

Gromyko told a news conference they "agreed on the need to work together for peace independently of ideologies."

A brief Vatican communiqué said the meeting was "in continuation of the talk" the pontiff and Gromyko had at United Nations headquarters in New York during the Pope's visit there last October. They had exchanged remarks in a receiving line.

Vatican sources said it was almost certain they discussed the Pope's visit to the U.N. and his repeated pleas for world peace. The sources said the Pope probably urged the Soviet government to use its great influence to ease tensions and seek permanent peace.

The sources added that it was most unlikely that such ticklish subjects as recently worsened relations between the Church and the Communist government of Poland were raised.

Gromyko said that "even though the visit was of a private character" he and the Pope had discussed various world problems.

The visit was a major step in improving the basic mood between the half-billion-member Roman Catholic Church and the Communist world.

It was considered in Vatican circles that Gromyko's visit could ease the way for a future papal visit behind the Iron Curtain.

Ohio Brass Plans Start In 4 Months

200 Are Scheduled To Be Employed In Initial Operation

The Ohio Brass Co. of Mansfield, one of the leading suppliers of porcelain insulators, has leased the former Edwin M. Knowles China Co. building in Newell, which has been vacant since 1962.

Roger A. Black, president of Ohio Brass, said renovation of the plant already is under way, with production scheduled to begin in approximately four months.

The operation is expected to employ at least 200 at the beginning.

The building was leased from Robert E. Boyce, president of the First National Bank, and Mike Turk, local auto dealer, who had purchased the property earlier to assist "in the restoration of employment in the area."

THE FACTORY, with 356,000 square feet of floor space, has been idle since the pottery company discontinued operations.

Black said that leasing of the Newell factory had been decided on "as the fastest way Ohio Brass could help relieve the shortage of electrical porcelain. Two kilns for firing porcelain already are in place, enough to add 33 per cent to our firing capacity. By leasing this facility, we're cutting an estimated 12 months off the time it would take to get comparable new facilities into operation."

Porcelain insulators are used by electric power companies in the construction and maintenance of high voltage transmission and distribution lines.

Delivery on some sizes and types of insulators has been extended as far as 1968, Black said.

He explained that part of the capital from the recent sale of the company's Timpale Division, Denver-based manufacturer of semi-trailers and truck and dump bodies, was being invested in machinery and equipment for the Newell plant. At the time of the sale, Ohio Brass said it had decided to expand its facilities for serving the electric utility and mining markets.

IN ADDITION to the saving in time and availability of kilns, Black said that the comparatively short 75-mile distance from

Tax Increase Ruled Out By Johnson Aide

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson's chief economic adviser ruled out today any immediate tax increase to arrest inflationary pressures.

Gardner Ackley, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, said the administration feels that restraints imposed on the economy last winter, coupled with the cooperation of industry and labor, will be an adequate hedge.

His talk to the annual convention of the Supermarket Institute added new assurance that a tax increase is not now part of any administration anti-inflation program.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey told a meeting of The Associated Press in New York Monday that he would bet against an anti-inflationary tax increase now.

Ackley urged full cooperation of the food industry in controlling food prices which during March averaged 6.5 per cent above a year earlier.

During Visit To Area

McIlwain Stresses Need For Highways And Canal

The need for more modern highways in this area and for action on building the Lake Erie — Ohio River Canal was stressed by Harry H. McIlwain, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor in Ohio, during a visit to Columbiana County Tuesday.

McIlwain spoke to a gathering of county officials at the Hotel Wick in Lisbon and cited the lack of an adequately developed four-lane highway program for the area.

He said the only major highway projects under way are those originally blueprint under the Democratic administration. "I will concentrate on developing a road plan which would bring jobs and industry into the area, so that our young people will stay instead of moving elsewhere."

He said he believes the river-lake canal is a vital necessity to help make the Ohio Valley an industrial Ruhr, and he plans to work with Rep. Michael Kirwin of Youngstown to make the canal "a reality instead of a dream."

McIlwain also discussed the need for revitalizing the Democratic party in Ohio, saying, "We are bankrupt in funds and leadership." He said he plans to help reorganize the party after the primary election, obtaining a new leader, "a general who can lead an army of Democrats to victory in the fall, a man who knows how to win and has the will to win."

Lawyers Slate Law Day Talks For Oak Glen

Two Hancock County attorneys will speak before Oak Glen High School and Weir High students this week in observance of "Law Day," which will be marked Sunday.

Rosenshine will address Weir students Thursday.

Catenaro, chairman of the Law Day Committee of the Hancock County Bar Association, said, "Observance of 'Law Day' offers residents a timely opportunity to demonstrate responsible citizenship by recognizing their duties to hold the law, assist law enforcement agencies, serve on juries when called, to give testimony in court and to respect the rights of others."

He said the fact that "Law Day" occurs on Sunday this year is a reminder that freedom of religious worship is one of the most priceless freedoms in our laws and traditions.

The theme this year is "Respect the Law — It respects you," he said.

Milk Unit Challenged Again On Right To Increase Prices

HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Milk Control Commission's authority to approve a recent cent-a-quart milk price increase has again been challenged in Commonwealth Court.

Four suits—representing protests by consumers in both eastern and western Pennsylvania—were filed Tuesday asking the court to rescind the increase.

The suits contend newspaper notices were not published before the increase went into effect, "and, in absence of such a notice the commission has no statutory authority to order an increase."

The actions also charge that no substantial evidence was presented to support the need for a price increase at commission hearings.

After receiving the suits, President Judge Homer L. Kreider directed the commission to show cause why the price increase order should not be suspended or rescinded.

He also directed the commission to send a record of the disputed hearings to the court by May 10.

The suits were filed by the following persons and organizations:

—Jacqueline Tronkle of Schwenksville, Montgomery County, representing 537 consumers.

—Louden Hill Farms, Inc., of Dimock, Susquehanna County; and John F. Davis and Louis Marino of Scranton, representing 1,983 consumers.

—Erie Pensioners Association, representing 400 members; Erie United Mine Workers, representing 4,000 members; and Thomas West of Erie, representing 510 consumers.

Earlier, a plea by officials of Allegheny County and the city of Pittsburgh that the court grant a preliminary injunction to stop the price increase from becoming effective was refused.

Vote 'Yes' For The School Levy

The hope of every mother and father is to have their son or daughter achieve the highest level of attainment possible in life.

There are fewer deep disappointments than that of the young person who fails to go to college or learns he or she cannot pursue the career on which their heart was set.

In no small way is the quality of education in our schools a primary factor in determining the future of a girl or boy.

Where educators and politicians and "the experts" have been lamenting "The Crisis In Education" across the United States, in terms of classroom shortages, college needs and new techniques, we have been overlooking a crisis of our own in East Liverpool.

We cannot expect to continue a satisfactory public school system — regardless of new buildings or new programs — if we do not have the qualified teachers to teach.

The East Liverpool School District currently has a salary schedule for instructors which is below the rest of the districts in the area, and we are losing good instructors who can not afford to turn down opportunities to advance in their careers.

Fortunately, the district has been able so far to retain some good teachers despite the discrepancies in pay. But, the most important problem is the inability to provide a sufficient salary schedule to attract new capable teachers.

In Tuesday's primary election, voters must decide on a proposed 3.5-mill levy designed to help alleviate our school salary problem.

The importance of a good teaching staff and adequate pay has been recognized by a number of community groups, such as the Trades and Labor Council, PTA's and others.

We strongly urge that you consider the serious situation which will face our schools and our children if we cannot get the type of teachers our young people need, and deserve.

If we permit our educational system to become third rate, it will be reflected in our youngsters, our city and ourselves.

Safety Moves Ahead

Industrial safety in Columbiana County has had its day on stage again—during the annual awards get-together Tuesday night.

And another good "day" it was, with fellowship, humor, good food and the realization of another job well done.

The county's industry has every right to be proud of the part it has played year after year in the statewide industrial safety program. An energetic sponsoring committee and an enthusiastic group of people can take the credit.

Now comes the hard work again—the behind-the-scenes activity that means safety records in the months ahead preparatory to another fling in the spotlight "on stage."

Both management and labor have met the challenge in the past on a countywide level and with Tuesday night's enthusiasm as a barometer there's every reason to believe that it will be met again.

Same Old Balance Of Power

The thing to watch in Viet Nam from now on is a buildup of anti-American air power. The story will be slow in coming, assuming it will come eventually.

When it does come, the theme implicit in the buildup will be the oldest continuing theme in international relations — balance of power.

A great new power is developing in Asia. The Chinese People's Republic is the newest significant member of the "atomic club." Its possession of the equipment and knowledge to cause a nuclear explosion very likely will be the most important event in the final third of the 20th century.

What makes Chinese development significant is the general belief that China alone could be depended on to use nuclear explosions to implement Communist expansionism. It is more to be feared than the Soviet Union, whose former passion for nihilism seems to be dwindling in direct proportion to its success with industrialism.

The reigning generation of Chinese Communists, with nothing to lose but the meager remainder of their own lives, might run atomically berserk; that is the fear of Western policy makers. Whether this is equally the fear of Soviet policy makers is still undetermined.

In any event, Soviet policy makers are as committed to balance-of-power politics as policy makers everywhere else. They would like to see China and the United States fight, but they would not like to see either side win, just as the United States would like to see China and Russia fight without victory.

At the moment, the dominant military power in Asia is the United States. Main reason for its dominance is air power. Up until the last few days, no challenge to its air power existed.

This has changed. Anti-American air power is beginning to show up. Its origin is indeterminate. But its purpose is plain. U.S. air power is being challenged.

No great nation can afford to let another great nation make a clean sweep of power. From time immemorial, weaker nations have joined together against the strongest nation, to keep it from dominating the world.

That was the story in World War I and World War II. It will be the story in World War III if that is, in fact, what now is beginning in Asia, destined by history to be the next great battleground.

Letha Astry

Letha Astry of Salem, Republican 18th district committeewoman, should be re-elected in the Republican primary next Tuesday. She is opposed by Isabelle Chaney of Steubenville.

Mrs. Astry, known throughout the district as one of her party's most dedicated leaders, was recently honored by Gov. James A. Rhodes with an appointment to the Ohio Bridge Commission. She has served since 1954 as district committeewoman and previously was Columbiana county Republican chairwoman and in 1956 served on the party's National Convention committee for the Republican Women's Federation.

She was an alternate delegate to the convention in 1956 and a full delegate in 1960 and in 1962 served as vice-chairman of the state convention. In 1964 Mrs. Astry was the first woman to serve Ohio on the National convention's permanent organization. When the Taft Memorial was dedicated in Washington, D. C., April 14, 1965, the late Congressman Clarence Brown honored Mrs. Astry as the originator of the memorial project.

The Republican party is fortunate to have Mrs. Letha Astry in its ranks.

planes may chase enemy jets into Communist China if the Red craft flee across the frontier.

Until he is willing to say whether that's what it means, then what meaning does "no sanctuary" have at all, unless it's meant to make the Chinese think twice as of now they don't know what Rusk has in mind?

It was last July 11 that Rusk said North Viet Nam's supporters "must take fully into account" that in the Viet Nam war "the idea of sanctuary is dead."

At that time other U.S. sources said Red China had been told those who might join in an attack on South Viet Nam could not expect immunity from reprisal.

At least saying there is no sanctuary in this war is further than the U.S. government was willing to go in the Korean war. But then the United States was far less equipped for a big war than now.

Wishing Wells

Rome is a city of fountains and visitors have turned them into wishing wells.

Everyone who comes to Rome seems to know the charming superstition. If a visitor stands with his back to a fountain and throws a coin into it over his shoulder, he is assured a return visit to the Eternal City.

Roman police have two complaints about the custom. In summertime they are often hard pressed to keep street urchins from scrambling into the fountains to scoop up the silver and to keep overexuberant, uninhibited tourists from throwing themselves into the cooling waters along with their coins.

Some of the city's hundreds of fountains are masterpieces of sculpture and Romans feel that these are not the place for tourists to wade or soak their hot, aching feet.

As Rome welcomes four million foreign visitors a year, the take from fountains can run into respectable sums of money. In 1958 the Italian Supreme Court reviewed a case disputing the legal ownership of the booty; it decided that the coins are the property of a city in which a fountain stands. Taking coins from fountains is now regarded as theft rather than the former lesser charge of disorderly conduct.

Rome has seen fit to allow coins collected from the famed Fountain of Trevi and others to be kept by the concessionaires who regularly drain and clean them.

Days Dwindle To A Precious Few . . .

Strikes Cripple Viet Effort

By Victor Riesel

Since an arms shortage and a paucity of vital spare parts have been authentically reported in Viet Nam, it must also be recorded that some unionists simply are not permitting that war to interfere with their acquisitive instincts.

Arms make the man in Viet Nam, but in many key war materiel plants there appears to be no urgency to produce such equipment for our fighting soldiers.

Constantly, sometimes 'round the clock, the Pentagon labor relations experts get grimly urgent calls from their colleagues in the ammunition supply division that some strike or another, generally by machinists, is about to cut the flow desperately needed bombs or grenades.

Recently a strike crippled one plant which the Defense Department needs in steady production for helicopter cannons.

That factory, the Chamberlain Corp. installation in Waterloo, Iowa, was paralyzed for six days. Production of thousands of items was lost.

PENTAGON OFFICIALS pounded desks and anything else in sight. The Waterloo plant makes the kind of fighting equipment which is in especially short supply.

It whips out the igniter component part for napalm bombs. It produces the 2.75 rocket in both the white phosphorus and high-explosive versions. It rolls out a 50mm grenade fired by Army helicopters.

There also is some "key ground materiel" all used by our troops in anti-Viet Cong offensives and in rescue operations at besieged special forces camps.

Yet, the other day, 45 of the workers there walked out, threw up picket lines and thus kept some 600 other employees from going in.

Most are members of Lodge 1318, International Association of Machinists. The original 45 were wildcaters. Their union did not authorize them to strike or picket. But they were aggrieved.

THEY WERE INCENSED over the company's attempt to change the incentive pay system. Incentive pay is given generally on a piece-work basis — the greater the production, the higher the workers' income.

The argument flared when government orders for the vital munitions moved the company to tool up its automatic chucking machines for speedier production to meet the Army's needs.

The company believed that the speedier machines would maladjust the pay system, since the faster machines would be turning out much greater quantities. It was willing to negotiate. The Pentagon had been alerted. In turn, its special labor advisory office had contacted the Federal Mediation Service.

But the 45 machinists hit the bricks. They had been averaging about $120 for a regular week—and many had been taking home $200, and more, with overtime.

They were not about to starve—not for the next few weeks anyway, during which time the negotiators could have settled matters over a table instead of a sidewalk.

THE UNPUBLICIZED HYSTERIA inside the Defense Department was not quite tranquilized by the reports of the crisis at the fantastically strategic Lone Star ammunition plant in Texarkana which appeared about to "go down" at the same time.

Nor was there any rest for the weary Pentagon specialists when word came that the machinists at the Gibbs Manufacturing Co. in Janesville, Wisc., appeared ready to hit. Gibbs makes fuses for rockets.

Furthermore, it is all integrated with production at the Chamberlain - operated Scranton Army Ammunition Plant in Scranton, Pa., and the upcoming Burlington, N.J., Army Ammunition Plant.

Scranton makes 155mm projectiles hurled by helicopters, and Burlington will produce 81mm mortars so we can duel with the Viet Cong, who appear to have the edge on us in that field.

So the wildcaters, making a big production of autonomy instead of armaments, could have set off a crippling strike fever. Finally, after six days they returned to the plant when their national vice president, Gene Glover, got into the act.

In recent months he has had to put out strike rebellions at installations making ball powder for bullets, phantom jets for bombing and strafing, and complex innards of atomic weapons.

They had an incentive to return—higher pay. The kids over there also have an incentive to return—their kin folk, jobs and some day, peace. But they don't wildcat.

They simply fight for the kind of society in which the home folks can lay down their tools while their protectors are taking up arms.

Garden Of Eden

Iraq hopes to make the Garden of Eden bloom again.

An old Arab tradition holds that present-day Al Qurnah, a town in southeastern Iraq on the right bank of the Tigris River, is the approximate site of the Biblical Garden of Eden. Here the Tigris joins the Euphrates to form the majestic Shatt al Arab that channels the waters of both great rivers into the Persian Gulf.

This area was a corner of Mesopotamia, the ancient world's foremost granary. In Herodotus's words, Mesopotamia was a "forest of verdure from end to end," but the centuries since Babylon emerged there is about 2200 B.C. have seen desert sands blow over fertile fields; clogged canals have turned farmlands into swamps and marshes.

Since 1950, oil-rich Iraq has turned over a large portion of oil revenues — now 50 per cent — to an Economic Planning Board for land use, irrigation and flood - control projects, public health, education, communications, and industry. Among the current agricultural projects is one to plant rice in the Al Qurnah region to try to restore its productivity.

'Highbrowism'

By David Lawrence

Fulbright's Words Raise Question

It's too bad the rest of the world doesn't understand and really knows relatively little about the way the American system of government functions. Thus, a man can be chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and can malign his own government's policies in world affairs and yet not reflect either the viewpoint of his government or of the majority of the people of the country.

Just the other day, in a lecture at Johns Hopkins University, Chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee accused David Lawrence the United States of "succumbing to the arrogance of power." The dictionary defines arrogance as a feeling of superiority manifested in an overbearing manner or presumptuous claims. The word arrogant means exaggerating one's own worth or importance.

Undoubtedly the Communist press and radio in Moscow and Peking will seize upon the speech as confirmation of their repeated charges that the United States is guilty of aggression. It makes things more difficult for the President and secretary of state in carrying out the foreign policy of the United States when a man as important as the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate feels obligated to accuse his own government of being arrogant.

SEN. FULBRIGHT, in his address, said his question is "whether America can overcome the fatal arrogance of power" that at times has weakened and destroyed great nations. He added:

"Gradually but unmistakably we are succumbing to the arrogance of power. In so doing we are not living up to our capacity and promise; the measure of our falling short is the measure of the patriot's duty of dissent."

These were discouraging words sent across the Pacific to Viet Nam to be read by officers and men of the armed forces of the United States.

There is, of course, a right of dissent but does it extend to the chairman of a Senate committee who breaks with the head of his own party? In Great Britain, where Mr. Fulbright was graduated from Oxford, the parliamentary system virtually requires a man who differs with his party to resign from a position of leadership.

Mr. Fulbright, in his lecture, revealed that he had helped to push through the Senate in August 1964 the resolution authorizing President Johnson to take "all necessary steps" against the aggressors in Southeast Asia. He says his role in that instance is "a source of neither pleasure nor pride" to him today, although he does not regret the outcome of the election in which this development was an issue.

HE ADMITS that he sought to get the resolution passed because he did not wish to make "difficulties" for his party in the presidential campaign.

This could be construed as an example of political expediency that supersedes personal conviction. Such inconsistencies are not unusual under the American system of government, which fails to fix responsibility on those who wield power such as is vested in the chairman of a congressional committee.

The 1964 resolution was passed by an overwhelming vote in both houses of Congress because it reflected the will of the American people.

What is being said now in criticism is in the nature of hindsight that disregards the factors of Communist aggression plainly apparent at the time. History will record that the resolution helped to stop a major war. It warned Red China that the United States wouldn't tolerate attacks on American naval vessels without retaliatory action.

ANY MEMBER of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has a right of dissent, even though his accusations are unsupported by convincing evidence but for the chairman to give an impression abroad that the United States actually has committed acts of imperialism means to many persons that similar charges by Red China and the Soviet Union have to some extent been sustained.

The truth is Sen. Fulbright likes to indulge in highbrow dialectics, but he forgets that people in foreign countries sometimes take seriously what he says, especially when he accuses his own government of exercising an "arrogance of power."

collected and held in the induction heated channel furnace. This holding furnace serves several purposes — it permits the charging of accurate and pre-determined hot metal weights to the blowing vessel; it permits control of chrome iron temperatures important to the process, and it allows, by accumulating chrome iron, scheduling of successive stainless heats.

CARBON AND alloy hot metal will be supplied from the No. 1 Blast Furnace and stored in the hot metal mixer. With the addition of predetermined weights of alloys and fluxes to the vessel, and the blowing of considerable quantities of oxygen at pre-determined rates, the required chemical action is initiated and carried out. The resulting steel is then teemed in ingot form to take to the continuous casting unit. The intermediate operation of degassing will be done as required. Water will be recirculated to minimize total water usage.

In a statement concerning the court-ordered delay of the annual stockholders' meeting slated today, Hunter said:

"IT IS IRONIC that your company should be harassed by a law suit at the same time that it is enjoying record sales, the best earnings in nine years and even brighter prospects for the future.

"In view of this record, I should like to review certain points that may have been obscured by the recent litigation:

"1.—The court has been concerned only with a hearing on a preliminary injunction and not a decision of the issues. The order yesterday did not represent a trial on the merits of the case, but rather a determination that the plaintiffs have a temporary relief.

"The trial on the merits will come at a later date.

"2.—Every one of management's communications requesting a proxy was filed with and processed through the Securities and Exchange Commission in compliance with rules.

"There has been no allegation in the complaints that any of these communications violated the proxy rules.

"We feel very strongly there has been ample time for solicitation and that in our proxy soliciting material, there has been no misrepresentation, falsity or impropriety of any kind. We expect to prove this fact at the trial on the merits.

"3.—While the plaintiff made a variety of requests, the court specifically confined itself to maintenance of the status quo by issuing a temporary injunction serving only to put off the meeting; and the court specifically declined to grant the plaintiffs any of the other relief they requested.

"4.—Even with respect to the temporary injunction, a notice of appeal has been filed, which we expect to prosecute just as vigorously as is humanly possible.

"5.—Finally, it is significant that the court by its action has left the present officers and directors of the company in full management of the firm's affairs. "I trust you realize how distasteful this postponement is to us. We find the delay disconcerting, costly and potentially harmful to employee morale and the orderly pursuit of the company's business.

"It is not, however, a situation of our choosing. "Meanwhile, supporting and assisted by a strong able board of directors, your management will continue to direct its principal efforts to even further improvements in your company's profits."

remain before the ICC — such as the C&O-N&W proposal, or the fight between the Chicago & North Western and the Union Pacific for the Rock Island — few have generated the intense business world excitement of the Penn-Central proposal.

Billed as the biggest corporate merger in U.S. business history, the system was envisioned as the third leg in an Eastern railroad "triangle" composed of the C&O and the N&W systems — themselves the products of mergers of smaller roads.

Regarding the Penn-Central giant as too big to compete against on their own, the C&O and N&W have decided to break up the triangle and join forces, if the ICC approves.

In prescribing merger as the best cure for the financial ailments of the nation's railroads, the ICC has said:

"The railroads throughout the nation today are confronted with both the intensification of external competition from other modes of transport and increased operational costs within the railroad industry itself."

Mergers, the commission said, hold the promise of "the fuller utilization of the merging railroads' potential for efficient and economic service."

Just 50 years ago, the ICC counted 1,243 railroads operating in the United States. Today, fewer than 400 remain.

Jaywalker Is Killed By Car In Columbus

By The Associated Press One of three jaywalkers crossing a Columbus street has become one of Ohio's most recent traffic victims.

The dead: Ann L. Woods, 44, Columbus. The Columbus victim was one of two women struck by a car as they attempted to cross a street near the Ohio Exposition Center entrance. Police said the two, and a man, were crossing from a tavern and cited the survivors for jaywalking.

McElwain's Endorsed By Ohio Action Board

CLEVELAND (AP) — State Rep. Harry H. McElwain of Cincinnati has been endorsed for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination by the executive board of the American for Democratic Action of Ohio.

Also endorsed by the ADA Tuesday for Democratic nomination to state office were: Ben J. Goldman, supreme court; Thomas E. Ferguson, auditor; and James D. Nolan, secretary of state. The board also said Mark E. McElroy and Robert E. Sweeney are "highly qualified" for attorney general.

Project Eyed For Madison

Application for participation in a federal beautification training project for youths was authorized by the Madison Township trustees during a meeting Tuesday night at West Point.

The proposed $5,000 project would employ youths on improvement of a park area near the DAV home at West Point and other roadside areas and would be part of the program provided by the Nelson Amendment of the Economic Opportunity Act, George Dunn, trustee president, explained. Applications from young men interested in the work are being received by the trustees.

In other action, the trustees agreed to appoint a study group to determine the feasibility of forming a zoning commission for the township.

The sheriff's department will be consulted on enforcement of junk yard regulations.

Trustees also will confer with County Prosecutor J. Warren Bettis concerning legal procedures for establishing township regulations.

A delegation will attend a demonstration of the use of chemical for road surfaces to be sponsored by the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. near Barberton Saturday.

Bids were received on gas and oil supplies for the township, but no action taken.

Application for reimbursement to William Boyle of Salineville R.D. for two big pigs killed by dogs was approved for referral to the county commissioners.

The next meeting will be May 10.

Miners

$1.32 a day for top-rated miners, increasing their daily rate to $30.

The top-rated workers — operators of continuous mining machines and inside electricians and mechanics — make up about 10 per cent of the industry's work force.

The contract with the three independent producers also gave the top-rated miners an other $1 per day wage increase next April 1. And it gave the estimated 90,000 miners not in the top-rated category a $1 per day raise effective next April 1. This would place the basic daily salary of the 90,000 miners at $27.25.

The major difference between this contract and the one accepted this week by the two associations reportedly is the clause giving all miners an increase of at least $1 per day retroactive to April 1.

It was reported the contract up for a vote today also retains the eight paid holidays and the revised vacation pay schedule included in the pact with the independent operators.

And it reportedly contains one key revision sought by miners — a clause saying a helper must remain within sight or hearing of an operator of a continuous mining machine. Previous contracts said the helper must remain "within the working place."

In 1964, the union won a wage increase of $1 per day per year for two years, plus added fringe benefits. Some 10,000 miners staged wildcat strikes after the 1964 contract was signed, protesting that fringe benefits were far short of those enjoyed by workers in other industries.

In staging the current strike, miners contended their contract expired when the union signed the agreement with the three independents.

the company's Barberton plant and the availability of labor skilled in porcelain production had favored selection of the Newell plant.

He commented that the outlook is favorable, "with the backlog of orders substantially higher than a year ago."

Ohio Brass said local construction workers will be hired in the renovation and local and district people employed when operations begin where possible.

In announcing the transaction, Boyce and Turk said they wished to give credit to the Community Improvement Corp., the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce, the Northern Hancock Improvement Corp., the Hancock County commissioners, labor leadership and local manufacturers among others for their help in promoting the area industrial-wise.

They declared "they feel they have accomplished their original goal, by having obtained a good employer with a sound future."

"Ohio Brass will be a welcome addition to area industry," they said.

George A. Shaw, president of the CIC, had this comment relative to leasing of the property by Ohio Brass:

"The acquisition of the Edwin M. Knowles plant by the Ohio Brass Co. is indeed good news for everyone in the district. It is the result of our having the desirable ingredients to serve this company's expansion needs: a building of the correct size, a desirable location to serve their markets and the availability of the type of labor craftsmen they will need.

"It is a pleasure to extend a friendly welcome to the officers and board members of the Ohio Brass Co."

Ohio Brass was established in 1883 in Mansfield and has an operation in Canada in addition to the Barberton plant.

All 10 directors of Ohio Brass were re-elected at a stockholders' meeting this week in Mansfield.

They are: Black, president; Robert B. Black; Louis J. Ott, executive vice president; J. Howard Holan, vice president, Cleveland; Earl B. Davey, vice president and president of Canadian Ohio Brass Co., Limited, Niagara Falls, Ontario; Bernard H. Little, secretary-treasurer; Joseph T. Lusignan, vice president, engineering; Walter J. Milde, Cleveland (Jones, Day, Cockley and Reavis); William A. Springer, retired senior vice president, and Estes C. Thompson, vice president, manufacturing.

Porter Tells Of 'Pleasure' From Boating

A humorous talk on his experiences in pleasure boating on the Ohio River was given by Sidney C. Porter Jr., past president, during the meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday afternoon at the Travelers Hotel.

Porter recalled his earliest introduction to the river was in 1936 when the record St. Patrick's Day flood forced his family to evacuate by boat.

He told of the fun and danger on the river as he progressed from "johnnys" to sailboats to cruisers and some of his experiences both in being rescued and in participating in rescues.

Although possible danger lurks everywhere on the river, Porter said he would recommend boating as "a great family experience."

E. R. Chandler, president, presided and displayed the club's scrapbook which was exhibited during a district conference at Atwood Lake over the weekend. The scrapbook, dealing primarily with vocational service, was prepared by Alvin T. Babb, Joseph Coons and Hans Hacker. Babb is a member of the district vocational service committee.

National Steel's

3rd Consecutive RECORD Year

- MORE EMPLOYEES
- MORE INVESTMENT IN FACILITIES
- MORE SECURITY FOR EMPLOYEES

The most successful year in National Steel's history has created more security for our employees, as well as added prosperity for the communities in which we have plants. It has also been a year of financial growth for our shareholders and improved service for customers.

As National Steel grows, so does the payroll and the number of employees. This means more spendable income in plant areas. For instance, we had 25,877 employees in 1963, 27,872 in 1964 and 29,753 in 1965.

To maintain growth, in the eight-year period since 1958 we have invested and committed more than $1-billion for new and better cost-reducing processes and equipment. Today, an investment of approximately $36,600 supports the job of each National Steel employee. This is what it takes to keep our company competitive; to keep each job more secure.

'Pretty Near Total Effort'
Work On Master Water Plan For Ohio To Begin

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Water Commission will meet with a 15-member advisory group next week to begin work on a master water plan for the state.

The meeting will signal the start of "pretty near total effort" toward preparation of a master statewide water plan, S.L. (Jack) Frost, executive secretary of the commission, told The Associated Press.

Gov. James A. Rhodes several weeks ago directed the commission to come up with a master plan, with a view to coordinating work now being done by 914 local and 63 state and federal agencies.

As a start, the commission revised and rejuvenated a large, inactive advisory council. This council's coordinating committee is the group which will meet with the commission May 5 in Bowling Green "to review the approach to this master plan," Frost said. A statewide meeting will be called later with the entire council—composed of members representing agriculture, commerce and industry, recreation, public water users and the public.

A new state agency dealing with water could evolve from the master plan study. The state now has 32 agencies, boards or commissions dealing with water problems.

Any proposals for revising the present agency setup would have to go to the 1967 legislature for action.

Frost said a start toward a coordinated plan has been made in a northwest Ohio proposal. Before the meeting with the advisory group May 5, the commission will hear a report from consultants on the northwestern water plan.

Frost said that plan considers water supply, flood control, pollution, recreation and other factors in a "total water management" approach.

Shopping For Artificial Leg
One Cancer-Swap Patient Continues To Have Hope

CONSTANTINE, Mich. (AP) — Larry Rink and Harry Griffith had similar forms of cancer — and both fought for life the victim's own cancer, as last month in similar experimental operations.

Now Rink knows that Griffith is dead.

"It sort of shocked me at first," said Rink, 23, of the southwest Michigan community of Centerville. But, he said, he is still optimistic and is even shopping for an artificial leg.

Affraid? he was asked.

"No, not really. Not any more."

Doctors removed Rink's leg last May, hoping to check the progress of his tumor. It didn't work.

"Everybody knew except my wife and I that I had six chances out of seven it could come back," Rink said. "They never said anything to me about it."

But when Griffith, 63, of suburban Philadelphia, and Robert F. Allen, 29, of Tucson, Ariz., took part in a cancer-transplant experiment, Rink's doctors thought there was new hope.

Rink flew to Buffalo, N.Y., where doctors at Roswell Park Memorial Institute paired him with Thomas E. Welker, 21, of Monroeville, Mont., and repeated the prospective cure.

Cancerous tissue was removed from each victim and transplanted into the other. It was hoped each man's body would build up antibodies to fight the foreign matter — and the victim's own cancer, as last month in similar experimental operations.

Griffith died Monday despite the experiment. Doctors say Rink, Allen and Welker must be watched for some time before it will be known whether the new treatment helped them.

The gas company is observing its 150th anniversary this year.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Robert Schondelmayer of the Chester First Christian Church.

Gregg Todd and Charles Rayburn, Oak Glen Key Club members, and Earl Jackson were guests.

Alvin Fineman will be a guest tonight. The next regular meeting will be Tuesday.

Former major league manager moved from each victim and transplanted into the other. It

Suicide Threat Averted
Passersby Dissuade Girl Against Leap Off Bridge

A district housewife, a high school coach and a student were credited today with halting a suicide attempt of a 17-year-old girl threatening to jump from the Chester area bridge early Tuesday afternoon, talking with her until she climbed down from a perch on the railing of the Chester Bridge, then restraining her until police arrived.

Police said the credit for saving the girl's life goes to Norman Six, a high school track and football coach; David Kidder of 1572 Ettruria St., a student; and Mrs. Charlotte Smith of the Air Beacon Rd., who happened along after Six and Kidder first attempted to persuade the girl not to jump.

POLICE TOOK over from the girl's rescuers, removed her to City Hospital in an ambulance and then summoned her family. The family related that the girl has a prior history of mental disturbance.

Police said she is en route to the Weston (W. Va.) State Hospital for additional treatment, explaining she was released from another institution on Sunday.

Patrolman Orin C. Smith drafted a report on the girl's rescue, in which Capt. Robert H. Pyle and Patrolmen Jerry Adkins and Charles A. Winters also participated.

The first report of the suicide attempt was received at headquarters by telephone at 12:19 p. m. from Mary Clapson, a dispatcher at the Yellow Springs Police Station.

She shouted, "Don't come any closer! I will jump!" Kidder backed away to calm the girl. Then Mrs. Smith halted and she and Six began to talk with the girl, asking her to leave her precarious perch.

But the girl spotted young Kidder. She shouted, "Don't come any closer! I will jump!" Kidder backed away to calm the girl. Then Mrs. Smith halted and she and Six began to talk with the girl, asking her to leave her precarious perch.

Skepticism In Congress

Auto Industry Asks U.S. To Set Safety Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — The auto industry's declaration it now favors the federal government having the final say in setting safety standards has met with skepticism from some congressmen.

This became apparent Tuesday as industry spokesman John S. Bugas outlined the industry's position to an all-day hearing by the House Commerce Committee.

The committee resumes its hearings today with testimony from Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa, and spokesmen for the national tire dealers, the Insurance Institute and legal and medical groups.

Bugas made these points:

1. The industry and states should work together with the federal government to formulate broad auto safety standards, covering such things as brake performance, visibility and safety to passengers.
2. Congress should set guidelines, specifying the standards be considered in light of cost versus potential benefit, compar-which 44 states belong, while the auto makers collaborated to develop industrywide safety standards.

Critics who charged this was a stall "may have had some merit," Bugas said, noting that this approach would have required approval by 50 state legislatures. "There's no delay conceivable in this," he said of the revised approach in which the safety commission would play a consulting role.

He said the industry felt that having the secretary of commerce as "the ultimate authority" would be "welcome for the purposes of uniformity."

"Your position is considerably different," insisted MacDonald, asking how the committee could be sure the industry's position would not change again.

"I will not guarantee we will not change," Bugas said. "This is progress."

When his next turn to question Bugas came up, MacDonald pursued the point: "It's possible you might change again, you took a 180-degree turn after you left the other side."

Bugas: "This is not a tactic. This is something we think is sound. We have no present intention of changing. If someone shows us a better way to do it—"

MacDonald: "We're going to show you a better way to do it."

One of the industry's most severe critics, Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., greeted the industry testimony with a statement that "the industry retreat is more tactical than real" and that the auto makers still favored "federal safety standards set not by the federal government but by the industry and the states."

Bugas promptly issued a statement noting that "our proposals for cooperation with industry and the states do not mean that the secretary would be bound by their recommendations."

St. Clair Selects 3 For Fire Posts

Three St. Clair Township fire chiefs were named fire prevention officers for the township by the trustees at a meeting Monday night.

Named were Chief Kenneth Mills of Glenmoor, Chief Laverne Seckman of Calcutta and Civil Defense Chief Harry Reckner. The appointments are in line with state requirement for townships which do not have their own fire departments.

It was announced the police cruiser purchased in March from the Mike Turk Co. for $2,010 is to be delivered later this week.

The trustees authorized purchase of 36 tons of cold patch material for use on streets and roads.

The county will be asked to provide 24 feet of 36 - inch pipe for a sewer on the lower Bloomfield Rd. Trustees will check on a complaint about a sewer obstruction on Substation Rd.

The Ohio Valley Gas Co. was granted permission to make an opening on Annesley Rd.

Area Firms Get Awards At County Safety Banquet

Many East Liverpool district firms were among the 76 which received awards for outstanding safety records Tuesday night at the 16th annual Columbiana County safety banquet, co-sponsored by the Division of Safety and Hygiene of the Ohio Industrial Commission and the Salem Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with industrial and commercial organizations.

About 350 attended the event at the Columbiana South Side School.

Triple awards were presented to the Salem Valve Co. and Quaker Tool and Die Co., both of Salem, the M. & W. Manufacturing Co. of East Palestine and Metropolitan Brick Inc., of Negley.

Thomas W. Gallagher, superintendent of the division of safety and hygiene of the state agency, distributed the certificates.

The triple awards went to firms having the lowest accident frequency in 1965. None of the firms had a lost-time accident.

The Wellsville China Co. of Wellsville was among the firms receiving double awards for having lowest accident frequencies and for showing an improvement of 25 per cent or more over the previous year.

The Wellsville Post Office was cited for having no lost-time accidents. The Ohio Power Co.'s East Liverpool branch received a similar award.

Ohio Power and the Economy Manufacturing Co. of East Liverpool both were cited for showing improvements of 25 per cent or more in safety procedures.

Indians Tie Record After Posting 9th Straight Victory

Orioles Capture 9th In 10 Starts

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's streaking Indians have earned themselves a spot in baseball's record book right alongside the extinct St. Louis Browns. Now if they would just follow suit and go away too, Baltimore would be sitting pretty.

The Indians' ninth straight victory—a 4-0 shutout against Kansas City by Luis Tiant Tuesday night—equalled the American League mark for consecutive victories at the start of the season set by the Browns in 1944. St. Louis won the pennant that year.

Meanwhile, second place Baltimore kept pace with a power display that beat California 7-3. It was the Orioles' ninth victory in 10 starts, a .900 pace that would be good enough for first place most of the time but not in the American League right now.

Dave Johnson, Brooks Robinson, Curt Blefary and Andy Etchebarren provided the muscle for the Orioles with home runs that accounted for six runs.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York snapped a seven-game losing streak with a three-run ninth inning rally that beat Boston 7-6, and Chicago downed Washington 4-1.

Tiant's second straight shutout gave the Cuban right-hander a perfect 0.00 earned run average. He blanked Boston in his first start 10 days ago.

Against Kansas City, Tiant allowed just three hits and struck out 12. He got all the runs he needed on homers by Larry Brown and Duke Sims.

The patient Orioles stayed right with the Indians by hammering four home runs. Johnson and Brooks Robinson each had two shots while Blefary and Etchebarren added solo clouts.

Jose Cardenal and Bobby Knoop homered for California.

Alou's 5 Hits Trigger Atlanta's Victory

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Felipe Alou felt at home — and acted like it — but he still couldn't talk to his brother.

Alou, a Giant for six years, did as he pleased at Candlestick Park Tuesday night — but only after the game started. When that time came, he lashed five hits, including two homers and two doubles, as Atlanta crushed San Francisco 11-3.

But before the game, Alou had to stay away from his younger brother, Jesus, because of the enforcement of the National League's rule against fraternization among opposing players. A number of players have been fined $25 each for violating the edict.

The Alou situation first cropped up Monday night before the opener of the series between the Braves and the Giants.

"Jesus looked so lonely and unhappy before the game. I wanted to go talk to him," Felipe said. "That is terrible when a fellow can't talk to his brother on another team."

But Felipe didn't let any lack of communication with Jesus affected his hitting.

On the first pitch from Bob Bolin in Tuesday night's game, Alou hit his fourth homer of the season over the left field fence. The 30-year-old Brave then triggered a three-run third inning with a double, led off the fourth with another homer — his fourth in the last three games — singled in the five-run sixth and doubled in the seventh.

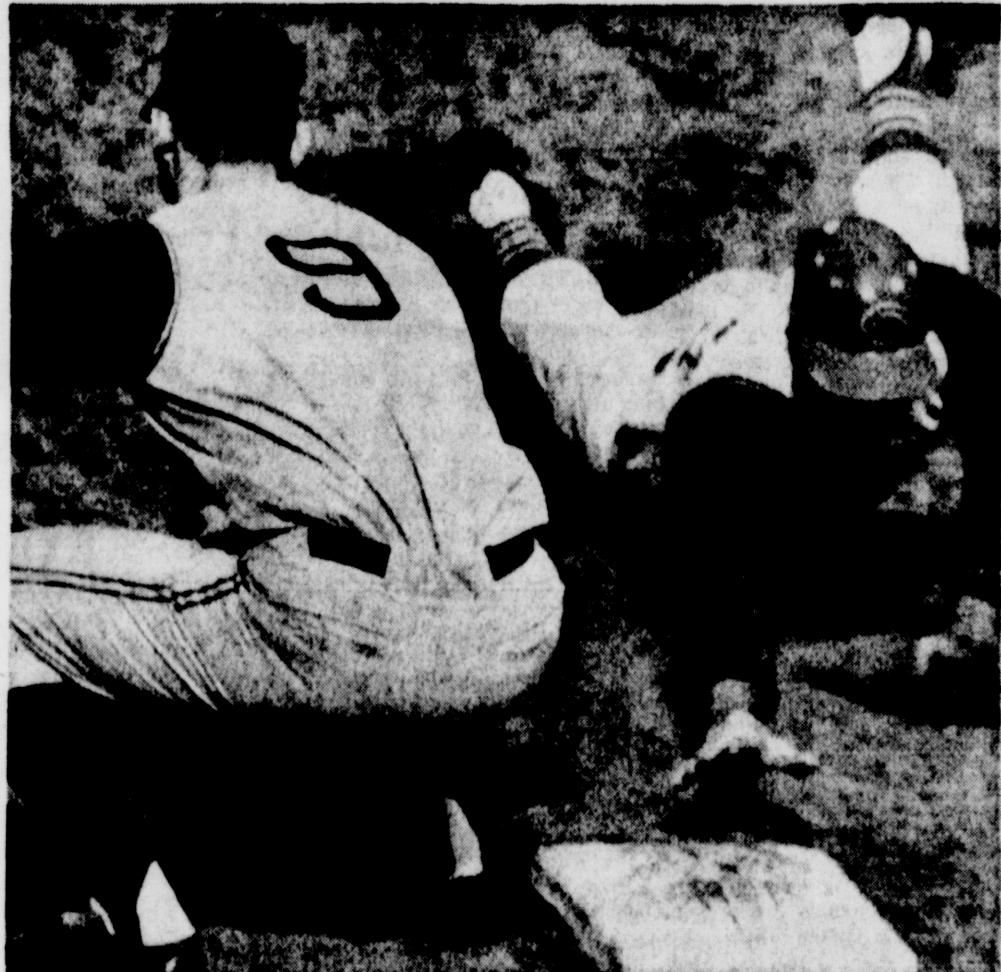

The lusty performance rocketed his batting average 54 points to .393 and gave him hits in all of the Braves' 14 games.

In other National League games, Los Angeles defeated St. Louis 4-2 and New York out-slugged Chicago 14-11.

Sandy Koufax allowed 13 hits — tying the most hits he's ever given in a game — but a four-run Dodger first inning brought the left-hander his third victory of the season, the last two on complete games.

After giving up six hits in the first inning — one of them John Roseboro's two-run single — St. Louis' Bob Gibson held the Dodgers to one hit the rest of the way, retiring the final 18 batters he faced.

The Mets insured their victory over the Cubs with a six-run outburst in the eighth inning. Ed Kranepool, who followed Ken Boyer's three-run homer in the third with a homer of his own, singled in two of the eighth-inning runs, and Cleon Jones drove in another pair with a triple.

Oak Glen Beaten For Track Title

Oak Glen lost its first duel meet of the season and with it went the Steel Valley Conference title.

Unbeaten Weirton raced to a 99-67 victory over the Golden Bears Tuesday at Steubenville to win the Conference crown.

Weirton dominated the field events winning all five while Oak Glen had won seven of the 10 running events.

Tom Thayer scored the only double victory for Oak Glen by winning both hurdle events while Jim Gracie took the 440-yard dash in 53.4 but was beaten for the first time this season in the 100-yard dash when Fernandez of Weirton hit the tape in 10 seconds flat.

Fred Bowers won the mile for Oak Glen in 5:00.3 and Oak Glen's 880 and shuttle relay teams came home first.

The results follow:

100-Yd. Dash — Fernandez (W), Gracie (OG), Austin (W). Time—10 seconds.

2-Mile Relay — Weirton won. 8:53.6.

High Hurdles — Thayer (OG). Time — 16 seconds.

440-Relay — Weirton won. Time—34.9.

Mile Run — Bowers (OG), Delaney (W), Durham (OG). Time—5:00.3.

3 Schools Are Given Probation By NCAA

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The NCAA supported Southwest Conference action banning Texas A&M from postseason football activities at least until next Jan. 15. Chattanooga went on probation for one year but without penalty, and Richmond was censured, the lightest penalty for a rule infraction.

The actions by the NCAA Council at its San Francisco meeting were announced Tuesday by Arthur J. Bergstrom, the assistant to the group's executive director.

Basically, the NCAA holds that once a grant-in-aid is made to a student-athlete it can be terminated during the period of the award only if the recipient renders himself ineligible scholastically or becomes a disciplinary problem.

New Teams Spark Attendance Hike

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Atlanta Braves and California Angels, both playing in new homes, are spearheading a major league baseball attendance hike of more than 10 per cent after the opening two weeks of the 1966 season.

The Braves, who moved from Milwaukee where their season's attendance in 1965 was 555,584, have drawn 139,043 in five home dates in Atlanta. This represents an increase of 93,935 over a comparable number of dates last year.

The Angels have attracted 143,865 paid spectators for six appearances in Anaheim Stadium compared to 77,280 in Los Angeles' Chavez Ravine last year. The Angels' increase is 66,585.

Big league attendance through Monday's games was 1,747,114. It was 1,580,471 after as many dates in 1965. The majors set an all-time attendance record of 22,441,824 last season.

The American League is responsible for most of the increase. The AL is up 153,698 over last season while the NL's gain is only 12,945. The over-all major league boost is 166,643.

Seven teams in addition to California show increases in the American League. They are Baltimore, up 27,352; Detroit, 19,457; Minnesota, 14,807; Kansas City, 11,458; Chicago White Sox 8,946; Cleveland, 6,324, and New York Yankees, 1,623.

Boston and Washington are down slightly, the Red Sox by 1,619 and Senators 1,235.

Besides the Braves, only the Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh and San Francisco have had turnstile hikes in the NL this year. The Cubs show a gain of 21,982, Pirates 13,351 and Giants, 2,521.

Houston, in its second season in the Astrodome, is 59,070 paid customers behind last year. The New York Mets are down 19,444, Cincinnati 15,189, St. Louis 14,300, Philadelphia 10,381 and the Los Angeles Dodgers, 460.

The Dodgers top both circuits in home attendance with 190,812.

Riverside Tracksters Defeat Midland, 74-44

The Midland High School tracksters suffered their first defeat of the season in dual meet competition Tuesday as powerful Riverside scored a 74-44 decision at the Leopards' track.

Riverside's distance runners paced the win as Chuck Kotuvy captured firsts in the mile run and 800-yard run; John Sockaci took the two-mile honors; Rod Jackson won the 440-yard dash and the mile relay team was victorious.

Sockaci set a Midland track record in the two-mile event with a time of 10:35 in pacing a sweep of the race with Deemer and Baker following him across the line.

Jim Tritt of Riverside was the top individual performer with three first place spots as he won both hurdle events and the broad jump.

Eugene Adams and Jim Richards captured field victories in the discus and high jump respectively as the powerful visitors won 10 of 14 events.

Dave Vanlier was the Leopard standout as he won the 100-yard dash in 10.4 seconds and the 220-yard dash in 24.2.

Vanlier also anchored the 800-relay team to a winning time of 1:36. Other members of the relay squad are Larry Walker, Jim Smith and John Williams.

Midland swept the 220-yard dash with Walker and Tom Wuchina bringing home second and third place spots.

Dan Gornak captured the only other Midland first with a toss of 44 feet 1 1/4 inches in the shot put.

DeVincenzo's Charge Wins 1st Prize In Dallas Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — Roberto DeVincenzo, called the International Sam Snead because he wins so many golf tournaments in so many countries, departs today for Casa Blanca on another of his globe-trotting jaunts. He'll play a televised match there with Tom Weiskopf.

He won his fifth tournament in the United States—in a 10-year period—Tuesday when he came from four strokes back, shot a four-under-par 67 and took down the $15,000 first money in the Dallas Open with a 72-hole score of 276.

It was, he revealed, the 120th tournament victory in an international golfing career that began in 1945 when he won the Argentine Open.

He has won the National Open in 13 countries—Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil, France, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Chile, Peru, Colombia, Panama, Jamaica and Mexico.

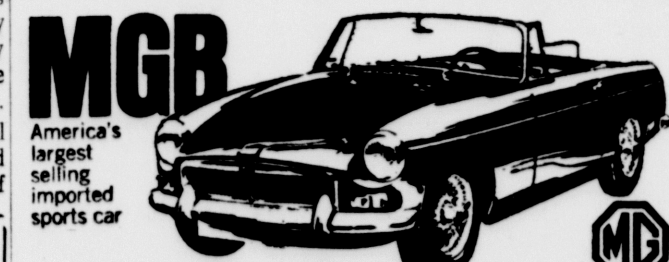

DeVincenzo won the Colonial National Invitation at Fort Worth in 1957 and that was his biggest purse until Tuesday when he won the Dallas Open by one stroke over Ray Floyd, Joe Campbell and Harold Hennings.

DeVincenzo started the final round of the Dallas Open tied for ninth place, four strokes off the pace being set by John Lotz and Harold Henning, who had 205 for 54 holes. Only DeVincenzo made progress in the final 18. Hennings was one-over-par, Lotz two over.

Doug Sanders and Gay Brewer, who were supposed to fight for the championship, finished with 72 and 73 respectively, and wound up down the list. Sanders had 279 and tied for eighth place. Brewer had 280 and tied for 13th.

Pirates Put Vern Law On Disabled List

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates placed pitcher Vern Law on the disabled list today.

The righthander pulled a muscle in his left side warming up to pitch April 18.

Since that time he has been taking treatments, but "it just hasn't completely healed yet," said a club spokesman.

Law must remain on the list for at least 15 days.

He was the Pirates' biggest winner last year with a 17-9 record. He had a 2.16 earned run average.

In his only appearance this year, he shut out the Atlanta Braves.

Archer Seen As Next Foe For Griffith

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Emilie Griffith started on a well-earned vacation today, ready to defend his middleweight title against all comers but determined to hang on to the welterweight crown, too.

The conqueror of Nigeria's Dick Tiger probably will defend his new middleweight crown against either Joey Archer of New York, Italy's undefeated Nino Benvenuti, or Tiger in June or July.

"We'll consider all offers," said Gil Glancy, Griffith's manager and trainer. "Whoever offers the best deal and the most money will get it but the fight will be held in the United States."

"We've got plenty of time to think it over. Meanwhile, Emilie will take a holiday. We've all been invited to the Virgin Islands by Gov. Ralph Paiewonsky."

The next defense of his welterweight title probably will be in court.

Griffith, a native of the Virgin Islands, said he didn't see why he had to give up the welterweight title just because he took the middleweight crown from Tiger Monday night.

"I got banged around a long time before I won it," said Griffith, slamming the top of a desk at a news conference Tuesday. "I worked and sweated for five years for it. I can hold both titles and defend them both until someone beats me."

Glancy said their attorney will serve papers on the New York State Athletic Commission today and then file a suit in State Supreme Court to test the right of the commission to force Griffith to vacate the lighter title.

Packers Deal Halfback For Pair Of Rams

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — The Green Bay Packers, champions of the National Football League, went to work on the future by making their first major trade of the season.

Looking for quarterbacking depth, Coach Vince Lombardi sent Tom Moore, a proven halfback who had played on three Packer championship teams, to Los Angeles Tuesday for a pair of unknown but promising players and a draft choice.

In return for Moore, Lombardi's original first round draft choice for 1960, the Packers acquired Ron Smith, a jumbo sized quarterback who spent most of last season on the Rams' taxi squad, and Dick Arndt, 6-foot-4, 250-pound Idaho tackle who has a year of eligibility left.

Kent State Expects New Era Under Frank Truitt

By HAL PARIS
AP Sports Writer
KENT, Ohio (AP) — Three weeks ago Kent State's basketball stock soared immeasurably with one significant announcement.

Frank Truitt, a gifted teacher, scout and recruiter, was named head coach of the Golden Flashes.

It could be just the boost needed to change the grim cage picture at Ohio's second largest state university.

Kent hasn't had a winning season since 1952 and in the last 14 years has compiled a dull 107-205 record.

School officials are confident that Truitt, a crafty tactician, will deliver.

Truitt, himself, feels that Kent offers "a great challenge" but he approaches his task with guarded optimism.

"If we can get a break in recruiting we could show vast improvement," he contends. "But I don't expect overnight miracles."

Yet, recruiting is one of ROME (AP) — Detroit's Olympic boosters were perplexed, the Salt Lake City delegation distressed and the Canadians from Banff hopping mad today after their cities' failure to win the 1972 summer and winter Games.

The International Olympic Committee named the West German city of Munich as the 1972 summer site Tuesday and awarded the Winter Games to Sapporo, Japan, later in the day.

The nominations were announced after a closed session at the IOC's 64th meeting. Avery Brundage of Chicago, 78-year-old president of the committee, refused to divulge the official votes.

By unofficial count, Munich won on the second ballot with 31 votes, followed by Madrid with 15 and Montreal with 14. Detroit, it was believed, dropped out of the running on the first ballot. Sapporo reportedly captured the winter nomination with 32 votes, to 16 for Banff, while Salt Lake City and Lahti, Finland, received little consideration.

Detroit Wins To Gain 2-0 Playoff Lead

By BERNIE KENNEDY
MONTREAL (AP) — Roger Crozier has been such a stand-out in the nets for the Detroit Red Wings during the Stanley Cup playoffs that Manager-Coch Sid Abel is running out of words to describe his play.

Crozier was the big man again Tuesday night as the high-flying Red Wings trimmed the Montreal Canadiens 5-2 to take a commanding 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series.

Sparked by a pair of game-saving saves by Crozier in the first minute of play in the third period, the Red Wings scored four goals and put the game out of reach before the period was three minutes old.

"Crozier was just terrific. He saved us again. What more can I say?" Abel said.

"I came to Montreal hoping to win one game," Abel said. "Winning two was more than I ever expected. This Montreal crowd has a great effect on the Canadiens. But we weren't bothered by it tonight."

"I think the whole difference here has been our skating, wabel continued. "And our older guys are really coming through."

"I think the whole difference here has been our skating," Abel continued. "And our older guys are really coming through."

Abel praised Gordie Howe, Bill Gadsby and Alex Delvecchio.

The series now moves to Detroit where games will be played Thursday night and Sunday afternoon.

Profits Decline, U.S. Steel And Bethlehem Say

NEW YORK (AP) — The profits of United States Steel Corp. and Bethlehem Steel Corp. in the 1966 first quarter fell below the level of a year earlier.

The top two steel producers reported first quarter results Tuesday.

They said the decline was due to the fact that steel users were buying heavily in the 1965 first quarter to build up inventories as a hedge against a possible strike.

In the first three months of this year, U.S. Steel earned $50,089,511, or 93 cents a share, compared with $73,772,849, or $1.25 a share a year earlier. Sales fell to $949,591,094 from $1,150,375,259 (B).

Bethlehem's first quarter earnings totaled $36,682,000, or 80 cents a share, against $44,132,000, or 97 cents a share, in the 1964 first quarter. Sales dropped to $615,967,000 from $675,876,000.

No silver dollars have been minted in this country since 1935.

Anti-Poverty
Program Hit
By Scranton

CINCINNATI, Ohio, (AP) — Gov. Scranton has charged that the federal anti-poverty program was set up in such a way as to bypass state and city governments.

Centralization at the federal level is exactly what the Johnson administration set out to do, Scranton said Tuesday night in a speech before the Cincinnati Bar Association.

"This is simply too big a country to operate successfully through a completely centralized government," he said.

Appalachia, he said, was relatively free of "the curse of over-centralization." He said he found fault with the decision to classify sections of the land as growth and non-growth areas.

The governor, who sought the Republican presidential nomination in 1964 and is mentioned as a presidential possibility in 1968, challenged the nation to fulfill "America's great mission," which he said included such tasks as:

- Regenerating cities;
- Providing economic security for farmers;
- Holding peace as the nation's foremost "positive objective";
- Extending civil rights to all Americans.

Sobriety House In Detroit

Bartenders To Help Men Who Can't Handle Drinks

DETROIT (AP) — The men who pour the drinks are going to try to help the men who can't handle them.

John Marra, a business agent for Detroit Bartenders Union Local 562, was elected Tuesday to the Sobriety House board of directors.

"I'm a drinking man," Marra said. "We're not drunks. We want to help these people who for one reason or another can't handle liquor. I expect a lot of people in our industry will want to help."

Sobriety House is a non-denominational facility to provide a home-like haven for the homeless alcoholic, who has lost money, friends, food, shelter, and often cannot support himself. The alcoholics who seek shelter are fed, given a clean bed and respectable, donated clothing. Medical treatment is arranged if needed, and they are encouraged to join Alcoholics Anonymous.

If French Split West Europe

Acheson Warns Of New Soviet Hazard To West

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dean Acheson warned Congress today of a heightened Soviet hazard to the West if French nationalism splits Western Europe into a number of small to medium-sized and weak states.

In testimony prepared for the opening of Senate hearings on problems of the Atlantic alliance, the former secretary of state endorsed the "empty chair" policy in dealing with President Charles de Gaulle's assault on NATO.

"We should do nothing on our part to prolong France's absence," Acheson said.

"We should keep her place ready and work for her return." But he noted tartly that "the recent development of French policy has not drawn a picture of France as a dependable or an effective ally." He suggested that a weakened Western coalition might tempt Russia into new probings of the West's resolution.

Acheson helped draft the North Atlantic treaty and signed it in 1949 for the United States. As lead-off witness at the series of public hearings of the Senate National Security subcommittee, he was called "Mr. NATO" by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., chairman.

The 73-year-old statesman said Russia's ambition to dominate Europe has never lessened but "it takes two to tangle and they have not wanted to tangle with NATO."

"Germany is still divided; Berlin remains an island... it is clear that the Russians do not accept the notion that military technology has reached a plateau and that the present military balance is fixed for the future," he said.

"They are gambling enormous resources on the chance that they may score a decisive advance in weapons systems."

"If the Western coalition now weakens and instead of a strong, united front we find a divided one, with Western Europe itself split into a number of small to medium-sized and weak states, the result will be a Russia not more, but less cooperative."

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — Malaysia, Thailand and the Philippines are expected to discuss the establishment of joint air and shipping lines at a conference of the Association of Southeast Asia which opened here today.

House Okays
School Milk,
Lunch Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has ignored White House opposition and sent to the Senate a $6.9-billion Agriculture Department appropriation bill that includes an extra $128 million for school lunch and free milk programs.

The roll call vote Tuesday was 366 to 23. The extra money was to keep the lunch and milk programs operating at current levels instead of curbing them as President Johnson requested.

House members wrote into the bill a provision that would cut off surplus American food to nations that trade with North Viet Nam. The amendment was offered by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill. Despite opposition by the Democratic leadership, it was approved by a 290-98 vote.

The amendment would ban sales, gifts or bartering of American food to any nation that sells goods to North Viet Nam or allows its ships or planes to transport such goods for other nations.

An Agriculture Department spokesman said departmental regulations now in effect restrict shipment of American food to nations that trade with North Viet Nam.

The money bill's total is $500 million more than was appropriated for the Agriculture Department for the fiscal year ending June 30, but $146 million less than the President requested for the year starting July 1. That cut was more than offset by the transfer to farm programs of customs collections that normally would have reverted to the Treasury.

Tornadoes Hit Mississippi; One Fatality

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes, spawned from torrential thunderstorms, dipped and darted across Mississippi during the night. At least one fatality was reported from a twister which struck in a rural area 40 miles southwest of Jackson, Miss.

The thunderstorms, which brought death and flooding to Texas over the weekend, continued to push eastward early today.

Portions of southeastern Mississippi, southeastern Alabama, most of the Florida Panhandle and extreme southwest Georgia were under tornado alert until 6:30 a. m.

A winter-like storm with snow and sub-freezing temperatures, lashed at Wyoming, Montana, Colorado, Minnesota and the Dakotas.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol said Bertha Jones, about 60, was killed when a tornado demolished two or three small frame homes about three miles east of Goodman, Miss.

At Weathersby, Miss., a tornado flipped over a house trailer. An occupant, Mrs. Lou W. Craft, about 60, was severely injured.

Director Leaves County 'Community Action' Post

LISBON — The resignation of Clyde Harrold of Columbiana as director of the Columbiana County Community Action Committee was accepted Tuesday night by the committee, which also approved a $21,000 improvement project for Hammond Park at Wellsville.

Harrold submitted his resignation to the trustees during the meeting at the Village Hall, citing health reasons.

Appointed to the director post effective Feb. 15, he had been ill three weeks prior to entering Salem City Hospital where he was a patient for two weeks.

The trustees named Miss Catherine Franzetta of East Liverpool, clerk-bookkeeper for the CCCAC's Lisbon office as acting director until a permanent director can be named.

Miss Franzetta has been filling the director's duties during Harrold's absence.

Mrs. Helen Welch, chairman of the Hammond Park Commission, outlined the beautification program which would be implemented under the Nelson Amendment of the Economic Opportunity Act.

The project calls for the employing of 20 youths to work for 10 weeks on the park improvement at $1.25 an hour, with a director and part-time special assistants to be retained for instruction and supervision.

The program includes construction of restrooms, widening of roads, re-wiring work, installation of tennis and basketball courts and other projects. The commission would provide one-tenth of the total cost in materials or in-kind matching provisions, such as use of the park for the program.

Fred Simmen of Calcutta, chairman, presided.

Russell Phillips and Lester Prebble were elected delegates, while Duane Kilmer, president, will attend as a delegate-at-large.

John Clark, Charles Bryant and Mildred Reynolds were chosen alternates.

The chapter authorized expense money for the delegation to the convention to be held at Akron. Pearl Caldwell and Jerry Layton were tellers for the election of the delegates. A white elephant sale netted $26 for the convention delegate fund.

Ralph Widger, treasurer, announced a wiener roast will be held by the group at Guilford Lake in the summer.

Ray Neidengard, past president, assisted Kilmer in conducting the business. Resolutions considered for the convention will be discussed further at the meeting May 24.

A Doctor's Reducing Prescription

A young woman walked into her doctor's office and said one safe and sure way to control appetite and reduce weight, and that is to eat three well-balanced meals a day with calories cut to allow nature to draw on stored fat for part of the fuel needs.

"Fine!" said her doctor. "You need to eat 25 pounds — and keep them off. I can help you, but under one condition — you must really want to lose that weight."

"Oh, I do," his patient assured him earnestly, figuring he would then prescribe something to curb her appetite.

THE DOCTOR reached in his desk, but instead of writing out a prescription, he wrote out a diet. When she brought up the subject of pills, he explained that anything of the sort is a temporary crutch and no real solution.

Furthermore, he cautioned that with her high blood pressure, she should not take any of the dehydrators also were coolers. By that method, water is lost from the system and while this might register as scale loss, it doesn't actually change body fat.

This wise doctor convinced his patient that there is only one safe and sure way to control appetite and reduce weight, and that is to eat three well-balanced meals a day with calories cut to allow nature to draw on stored fat for part of the fuel needs.

Here is the food pattern by which this overweight reduced from 164 pounds to 130 pounds. PROTECTIVE DIET
Breakfast: Citrus fruit juice, half glass, or sliced orange or half grapefruit with non-nutritive sweetener. 1 egg; toast, 1 slice, lightly spread; glass of skim milk, and black coffee.
Luncheon: Choice of: Cottage cheese, ½ cup or lean meat or fish, 3 oz. Green vegetable or salad with 1 tsp. French dressing. Glass of skim milk.
Late afternoon pickup—Apple or ¼ oz. cheese, cup of hot tea.
Dinner: Lean meat, 3½ oz. cooked weight. Yellow vegetable, ½ cup; green vegetable, ½ cup; gelatin dessert or fruit, and glass of skim milk.
On the doctor's protective diet, which was about 1,100 calories, this overweight lost 36 pounds in three months. She has held her weight at 136 for three years.
Both reducing and weight control are a matter of eating.

Legal Steps Fail To Keep Crucible Meeting 'Alive'

CHICAGO (AP) — There's nothing we can do about it, company attorneys said today after a Circuit Court judge's ruling Tuesday which delayed the annual meeting of stockholders of the Crucible Steel Co. until Aug. 29. The meeting originally had been scheduled for today.

The attorneys commented after the Illinois Appellate Court denied a motion to stay the Circuit Court order.

Judge Cornelius J. Harrington handed down the decision which gave a dissident group of Crucible stockholders the delaying action they had been seeking.

ATTORNEYS told newsmen there was no other tribunal open for any move to try to keep alive the annual meeting. (A spokesman for Crucible said last night that the meeting scheduled for today at the Carlton Hotel in Pittsburgh would be opened and then adjourned in compliance with the court order.)

At the start of legal moves, the group consumed six hours and carried through two court suits. Judge Harrington said the dissident group had convinced him "that there is a fair probability of ultimate success" of their suit.

He said the four-month delay will "permit sufficient time to correct the allegedly misleading solicitation material transmitted by management, and a correction of other charged violations."

The rebel bloc is led by Morris Rubin, Chicago industrialist. They had asked the circuit court to set the annual meeting back to Nov. 1. Rubin's minority group is ultimately loses the litigation.

Measure Sent To Senate Pennsylvania House Bill Hikes Penalty For Rape

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House early today passed a bill to provide increased penalties for rape and sent it to the Senate.

The House bill, which was passed on a vote of 204-4. Final action came at a post-midnight session after the Democratic leadership had beaten back three attempts to amend it.

Majority Leader Joshua Ellberg, D-Philadelphia, called on the Republican-controlled Senate to interrupt its primary election recess to return and give final legislative approval to the House bill.

However, his counterpart in the Senate, Stanley G. Stroup, R-Bedford, said he did not plan to have the Senate return. At the same time, he accused the House leadership of playing politics.

Following passage of its rape bill, the House adjourned for an election recess. Both chambers are scheduled to reconvene on May 23.

The House bill would raise the maximum penalty for forcible rape from 15 years imprisonment and/or a fine of $7,000 to life imprisonment and/or a fine of $10,000. If, however, there was no serious bodily injury, or if the victim was a voluntary social companion of the rapist, or had permitted him previous sexual liberties, the maximum penalty would be 20 years imprisonment and/or a fine of $10,000.

The major change that the Senate bill would make in present law would be to raise the maximum sentence from 15 to 20 years.

Task Of Recruiting Young Reporters Sifted By ANPA

NEW YORK (AP) — Difficulties in recruiting young reporters have been discussed at round-table sessions at the 80th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

The problem of retaining seasoned personnel to operate new equipment also was taken up at meetings Tuesday. Several speakers emphasized the theme that new machines depend upon the people who operate them, and that good people are becoming harder to find.

Donald W. Diehl, general manager and editor of the Easton, Pa., Express, told one group of publishers: "If you're tried to hire someone lately, you are aware that there seem to be two newspaper jobs for every available newspaperman."

Diehl also said that "all the food are produced in this country annually, or about 41 cans for each household."

Month's 3rd Allocation

$18,675 Federal Grant To Help 'Deprived' Pupils

The East Liverpool School District today received its third federal aid grant in a month, calling for an allocation of $18,675 to be used in a program of "Remedial Instruction in the Basic Academic Skills."

Tony L. Laneve, coordinator of the federal program here, reported he was informed of the latest allocation by R. A. Horn, director of the Division of Federal Assistance in Columbus.

THE PROGRAM, which is made available under Title I of the Elementary - Secondary Education Act, is a summer project designed to improve the educational opportunities of educationally and economically deprived children in the first nine grades.

The other two federal programs approved for the school district are the Title II project which will provide approximately $2.08 per pupil to increase the quantity, quality and availability of library books, textbooks and audio - visual teaching materials and a $52,151 allocation to set up two developmental reading instruction laboratories to improve the reading skills of economically deprived children in the first nine grades. The reading laboratory funds were approved Tuesday.

Tentative plans have been completed to start the program on "Remedial Instruction in the Basic Academic Skills" immediately following this school term.

Elderly Ohio Tourist

Disappears In France

CHERBOURG, France (AP) — An elderly tourist from Newark, Ohio, arrived here on the liner Queen Elizabeth, left a car parked near the Cunard Line offices, went on several days' tour of towns in Normandy, and returned to Cherbourg last Friday. Then he disappeared.

Nine rooms have been scheduled for use in East Junior and Westgate Junior High School.

STUDENTS will attend from three to four hours a day, five days a week. Classes will be from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m.

These students, representing for the most part those educationally and economically deprived, will be attending from elementary schools in the entire school district. This includes the lone non - public educational institution, St. Aloysius Parochial School.

There will be 18 instructors for the classes who will work closely with a supervisor, a coordinator, the school nurse and the school psychologist.

A survey taken when the Board of Education passed a resolution to participate in the federal projects indicated that 398 students could profit from this program.

"Although the program is set up for students who come from families with income of $2,000 or less, others may also benefit," Laneve said. "A student need not be economically deprived to have educational difficulties. Any student who shows a tendency to be educationally deprived also can benefit from the program."

Laneve said he also was informed that the school district has a balance of $6,716 in the 1966 Fiscal Federal Allocation Project.

City Mishap Damages

Truck, Station Wagon

A pickup truck and a station wagon were damaged in a collision Tuesday afternoon on Lisbon St., police reported.

The mishap involved a 1965 model truck driven by Donald L. Hildebrand, 22, of 6th Ave., LaCrosse, and a 1963 station wagon operated by Leonard Henson, 55, of Glenmoor, officers said. It damaged the grill and bumper of the truck and the tailgate, tail lights and rear bumper of the station wagon.

Henson told officers he pulled out to pass a vehicle ahead. But another vehicle pulled in front of Henson, he said, and he was forced to halt. Then the pickup truck, trailing Henson, hit the station wagon in the rear, officers said.

Change Is Set In Voting Site At Wellsville

Voters in Precinct 4-C at Wellsville will cast ballots at a voting place outside the precinct limits, Auditor E. S. Davison said today in announcing the polling places for Tuesday's primary election.

Davidson said no suitable building or private residence could be found within the precinct limits. At the general election in November, the residents voted at the Shaffer Trucking Co. office.

The new location is at Sandy's Home Improvement Co. at 1739 Commerce St., which is about 150 feet beyond the precinct limits.

All other polling places remain the same, the auditor said. They follow:

Precinct 1-A, Mrs. Charles La-scola residence, 210 3rd St.; Precinct 2-B, City Hall, 5th and Main Sts.; Precinct 2-A, Rahter Wallpaper Store, 711 Main St.; Precinct 2-B, fire station, 9th and Main Sts.; Precinct 3-A, Junior Chamber of Commerce Building, 1100 Center St.; Precinct 3-B, African Methodist Episcopal Church, 1325 Center St.; Precinct 4-A, Mt. Sinai Fire Baptist Church, 1617 Main St.; Precinct 4-B, Harry Hammond store, Aten and Clark Aves.; Precinct 4-C, Sandy's Home Improvement, 1739 Commerce St.; Precinct 4-D, Morgan Williams residence, 810 Aten Ave., and Precinct 4-E, Mrs. Leonard Kinzel residence, 1914 Nevada St.

Nebraska Man Urged

As Journalism Aide

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Lincoln, Neb., school teacher has been recommended to Ohio State University's trustees for appointment as assistant director of the School of Journalism.

OSU Vice President John T. Mount confirmed Tuesday night. Mount said the recommendation of Donald Ferguson, 26, by the Arts College, of which the J-School is part, goes before the trustees in June. The Lantern, OSU daily newspaper, quoted Dr. William E. Hall, journalism director at Ohio State effective July 1, as saying Ferguson was tentatively hired along with Hall of the University of Nebraska.

Meeting Planned Tonight

Sunnyside Women Slated To Aid In Cleanup Drive

Women of the Sunnyside area will meet tonight to organize a committee to cooperate in a general neighborhood cleanup campaign in May.

Plans for the meeting were announced Tuesday night at another session of the Sunnyside Improvement Committee at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office.

The women's group will meet at 7 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Hugh Ward of Alton St. At the meeting last night, Mrs. Frank Dales was appointed chairman, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Scott and Mrs. Mike Winters.

James H. Grafton, chairman of the general cleanup group, also appointed a committee to seek to locate and investigate property that could be obtained for use as a playground for the Sunnyside area.

It was announced a letter and a petition will be sent to Council asking construction of a sanitary sewer for the Alton St.-Observation St. area. The petition was signed by owners of affected properties.

Grafton reviewed an article which appeared in The Review concerning the cleanup campaign and discussed a speech by Gov. James H. Rhodes in which he said the community must be "sold" to the people of the community as a help in persuading new industry to locate here.

"The best way to do this is to make the city a cleaner, more attractive place in which to live," Grafton said.

Harold Maylone, Fourth Ward councilman, asserted he hopes that a new city building code will be enacted by Council by late 1966. He said "red tape" slows the action in ordering razing of a condemned building. He also reported on recent developments in plans to construct an auto-pedestrian ramp on W. 9th St. at former Chestnut St. and for resurfacing and other improvements in Lisbon St. He said work may be started sometime this year on the two projects.

Jack Bonner, health commissioner, told the group a sense of pride must be installed in the community to make a cleanup drive successful. He offered his services and those of Ben Weber, city sanitation, to aid the committee. The Sunnyside committee thanked Bonner and Maylone for their help in organizing the neighborhood drive. The committee's next meeting will be May 11 at 7:30 p. m. at the gas company building.

Wellsville Man Carried Out As Fire Hits House

An elderly Wellsville man was carried from his burning home at 8:45 a. m. today.

Firemen found Sam Coles still inside the house at 604 5th St. after neighbors saw flames and notified the department.

Fire Chief Robert Lewis said Coles was conscious, but was affected by the smoke. He was taken to the home of a neighbor and then later to the home of a son.

The fire started in a mattress and cot in the kitchen.

Damage was estimated at $50 to the house and $500 to the contents. The flames were confined to the kitchen.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruze —

Dear Heloise: After 12 years of muttering to myself as I spent time and water washing the foaming cleansers down the drain after scouring tub, etc., I had a sudden brainstorm this morning, tried it, and it worked. I wet the surface to be scoured, then wet the sponge (or cloth) you use.

Instead of sprinkling cleanser over the tub or sink, I sprinkled it on the sponge, squeezed it a bit and got to work.

I use much less cleanser, do the job just as well, and there is very little excess foam.

Why didn't I think of it sooner?
PATRICIA M. GOODE.

HELOISE:

DEAR HELOISE: When sewing on a four-hole button, sew through two holes only, then knot the thread and cut it off. Then sew through the other two holes.

When one set of thread breaks, the other holds secure.

Letter Of Laughter

DEAR HELOISE: After your recommendation I bought a carpet sweeper.

The neighbor's little boy was fascinated. He said to his mom, "You ought to see the neat sweeper they have. You don't even have to plug it in!"

J. LA VERNE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a "doozy" for women who have to launder the caps that railroad men (and others) wear: Wash it; and, while still wet, put it on a number 10 food can. (Pull down wall of cap and flatten the top.)

Let it dry all day or all night.

Looks better than you ever could get it to by ironing.
OLIVE ROBERTS.

DEAR HELOISE: Here is an idea for those who, like myself, have trouble keeping saltines fresh down to the very last cracker.

I freeze my saltines and when I plan to use them, I take out just the amount I will need. In a matter of minutes they are completely thawed and as fresh as can be.

This also works for breads, cookies and pastry.
MRS. JEAN BRANN.

By golly, it works beautifully!

I also found this was an excellent method for keeping pretzels and potato chips fresh.

If your packages have been opened, put the contents in a plastic bag, twist tightly, then freeze.

One can remove any amount when needed, and they are always crisp.
HELOISE.

Version Of Artificial Heart Due Use On Another Patient

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A modified version of the partial artificial pump that kept Marcel DeRudder alive nearly five days may be used on another patient within several weeks.

DeRudder, 65, died Tuesday of a ruptured left lung, the last of several complications that developed after he became the first patient to make use of the new device designed to give damaged hearts a rest so they can heal themselves.

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the noted surgeon who performed the six-hour operation last Thursday, said the lung rupture was a complication "over which we had no control."

"We don't know what caused the rupture," he said after DeRudder's sudden and unexpected death.

"The pump did what we thought it would do. We would hope to use it in all cases of this type."

Asked when the device might be used again, he replied: "I can't tell. Probably in several weeks."

He indicated modifications being planned will not change the basic design of the device.

DeRudder never regained consciousness, but DeBakey said that, prior to the lung rupture, there had been signs that other complications would have been overcome.

"But that's speculation," he added.

At the time of death, DeRudder also was receiving treatment for a kidney malfunction and for lung congestion.

The autopsy report attributed the prolonged unconsciousness to a blood clot in a major artery in the brain. It said a considerable amount of this gragmented clot had been found during the operation in the left auricle, the heart chamber that receives blood from veins.

"The autopsy revealed no evidence of any recurrence of this clot formation in the left auricle," the report said.

The artificial heart pump, the report said, was working normally up to the moment of death.

Probation Continued In Non-Support Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered continuation of probation granted in mid-February to James Burgess of Bloomfield on a charge of failure to support his infant daughter.

The charge was filed originally on Feb. 11 by the defendant's estranged wife, Mrs. Shirley Burgess. On Feb. 21, the court imposed a suspended fine of $10 and costs and ordered Burgess to make regular support payments. The court issued a warrant for Burgess April 19 after receiving a complaint he had violated the terms under which the fine was suspended.

his wife this morning. Judge Chertoff ordered the husband to mail support payments each Saturday so they will be received by his wife not later than Monday. The wife complained the payments were being made belatedly.

Beaver Vote Director To Speak At Ohioville

George Bailey Jr., chairman of the Ohioville Republican Club, has announced an open meeting will be held May 2 at the Borough Building at 8 p.m. William Smith, Beaver County director of elections, will speak on "Election Laws and Proper Voting Procedures." Any person of either political party is invited to attend.

DEAR HELOISE: My little old wooden step-stool was still sturdy but the top and steps were getting dangerously slippery.

I took some coarse sandpaper and cemented it on—rough side up—covering the whole of the top and a good part of each of the two steps.

Now I can climb for the top shelf with no danger of skidding into space!

CAUTIOUS.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's a bathing tip for a family with a baby and older children: Bathe them all at once!

I fill the tub for my 2- and 4-year-olds, roll in the bathnet for the baby and fill it.

The room is warm and steamy for the baby, so there is no need to turn the heat up. All baths are taken care of in half an hour, and the baby enjoys the chatter of the children and mother can watch over all her children at the same time.
MRS. WM. GILMORE.

DEAR HELOISE: After the kids were grown and had left home, I was stuck with a lot of three-quarter-size sheets.

Know what I did? Using an old fitted sheet for a pattern, I made the most wonderful fitted bottom sheets out of the three-quarter sheets. Some of the larger ones needed to be shortened but otherwise they were perfect.
JACKIE.

Canal Funds Are Sought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Requests for a $2.5 million appropriation to start work on a controversial, proposed Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal and funds for a variety of Ohio Valley flood control projects are in the hands of a congressional subcommittee today.

The Ohio Valley Improvement Association and several Ohio congressmen testified at a closed session of a House appropriations subcommittee Tuesday, pressing for money for water projects.

The canal is subject to approval by the Army Engineers Board of Rivers and Harbors, but proponents sought the $2.5 million conditionally to have available for a start if it is authorized.

Harry M. Mack, chairman of the association's board of trustees, in presenting the case for flood control improvements, cited severe flooding in the Ohio Valley in recent years. He estimated that the March 1964 inundation caused more than $100 million damage, nearly as much as in 1963 floods.

He ticked off proposed projects in the Allegheny, Big Sandy, Cumberland, Green, Kanawha, Licking, Little Miami, Mahoning, Miami, Monongahela, Scioto, Shenango, Wabash and Whitewater river basins.

The association gave the subcommittee a statement that of 19 structures required to replace the old Ohio River system of 46 locks and dams, six are completed, seven under construction, six yet to be started.

USW Defeated In Bid To Organize Workers

CLEVELAND (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has met defeat in its first attempt to organize the 30,000 salaried employees of the Ford Motor Co. across the nation.

The vote Tuesday night at the Ford stamping plant in Walton Hills was 74-62. The vote was conducted by the National Labor Relations Board as the UAW tried to gain the right to represent the plant's 143 clerical workers.

Midland Makes Changes In Its Traffic Lights

All traffic lights were set to daylight saving time Tuesday in Midland by the Kootz Equipment Co. of Pittsburgh.

Police Chief Ed Steff reported the lights are set for 45 seconds on green, three seconds on yellow and 12 seconds on red "to keep the main flow of traffic moving on Midland Ave."

Police officers who have been stationed at 7th St., 4th St. and 1st St. the last three weeks will remain on duty during the change of shift at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

Steff said, "These men are not there to necessarily speed the traffic out of the borough, but to alleviate congestion and control the traffic coming onto the main street from the side streets. They also aid pedestrians who find crossing the streets in bumper-to-bumper traffic hazardous."

Although raindrops are generally spherical in shape, larger drops often have their bottoms slightly flattened by air resistance and may be distorted into a mushroom shape.

No Progress In Newspaper Peace Talks

NEW YORK (AP) — An official of the striking Newspaper Guild reports "no progress" in peace talks with representatives of the merged but still unpublished World Journal Tribune Inc.

The new corporation went to federal court Tuesday to seek enforced arbitration of merger problems with six craft unions.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the AFL-CIO Newspaper Guild of New York, said as talks recessed Tuesday night "we made no progress on anything. In fact I think we are further behind than we were on Nov. 2, 1962."

That date marked the beginning of a 114-day newspaper tieup, the longest in the city's history.

Federal mediator Frank H. Brown kept the publishers and guild together all day Tuesday negotiating on the question of seniority in discharging employees from the editorial, business and maintenance departments.

About 1,800 guildsmen were employed at the now-defunct morning Herald Tribune and the afternoon World-Telegram & the Sun and the Journal-American.

About half of them stand to lose their jobs in the merger of the three dailies into the World Journal Tribune, Inc., which plans to publish one morning paper, one afternoon and one Sunday paper.

The Herald Tribune and the afternoon World Journal were to have published their first editions Monday but the Guild struck the new corporation Sunday. A new Sunday World Journal Tribune is scheduled to be published next Sunday.

In its suit, the corporation sought to have the six unions' contracts with the defunct dailies continued in full force and asked the court to direct arbitration on the issue of the work stoppage by the unions.

The unions have been seeking new contracts with the World Journal Tribune. They maintain the corporation is a new entity and the old contracts do not exist.

The unions include Local 8 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union, plus mailers, pressmen, lithographers, photoengravers, stereotypers, and newspaper and mail deliverers.

Demands for increased severance pay for 400 printers to be laid off in the merger have deadlocked negotiations between the publishers and the ITU.

Reams Raps Rhodes In Cincinnati Talk
CINCINNATI (AP) — State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. brought his campaign to State Rep. Harry McIlwain's home town Tuesday, but spent his time lambasting out at Republican Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Reams, of Toledo, and McIlwain are opponents for the Democratic nomination for governor. "The people of Ohio do not really trust the Rhodes administration," Reams said. "They know that Ohio's general prosperity is the result of Democratic policies nationally."

Man Will Head Firm He Joined In 1923
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — J.L. McNealey is president today of the electric company he joined in Gallipolis in 1923.

McNealey was named Tuesday to take over the presidential duties of Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., which Harry M. Miller had held in addition to being board chairman. Miller remains as board chairman.

People In News

CHICAGO (AP) — It was time to appreciate Sen. Everett M. Dirksen Tuesday night and the Illinois Republican was in his usual rare form.

The occasion was a $100-a-plate "Dirksen Appreciation Dinner" in Chicago, the climax of a three-day celebration marking 40 years in public service for the Senate's minority leader.

With three hefty puffs, the 70-year-old senator blew out 40 candles on a large cake in his honor.

The velvet-voiced Dirksen told newsmen: "The greatest mistake I ever made," was voting for a bill backed by former President Harry S. Truman to draft striking coal miners.

"Thank God for (the late Ohio Republican senator) Bob Taft who stopped the bill in its tracks," Dirksen said.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y.

(AP) — U.S. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg has a new senior adviser at the United Nations.

He is Richard F. Pedersen of Stockton, Calif., who was elevated to the personal rank of ambassador Tuesday by President Johnson.

Pedersen, 41, a counsellor in the U.S. delegation at the United Nations, has been a State Department foreign affairs officer since 1950.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —

John Hausman, a Berkeley, Calif., contractor, thinks the $40 million federal courthouse is "an ugly building."

He spent his lunch hour Tuesday marching around the two-year-old structure with a sign that said just that.

Asked why, Hausman, 37, said he was trying to make an emotional appeal to end "such absurdities."

The 20-story courthouse occupies a square block and is made of imitation stone blocks.

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Airman Ron Wegener of Offutt Air Force Base has romantic problems.

He didn't believe the news that his girl friend, Diana Wilkens of Wauwatosa, Wis., had been crowned America's Junior Miss — but he soon found out it was true to his misfortune.

"I called her six nights in a row," Wegener said Tuesday.

"And she was out every night." Now he and Diana are trying to have Omaha included on her projected 50-state tour this summer.

Wegener says that seems to be his best chance for a date.

Hedy Lamarr Acquitted Of Shoplifting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Hedy Lamarr's role was for real. She played it with dignity and a smile.

"Not guilty," said a Municipal Court clerk, reading the jury's verdict Tuesday at the climax of Miss Lamarr's six-day trial on a charge of shoplifting.

Applause burst from some 50 spectators who had stuck through attorneys' final arguments and five hours' jury deliberation.

Hedy, 51, sitting erect at the counsel table, handsome in a camel-hair suit, her caramel-blond hair chieflly tousled, flashed a smile. Then another. Her kid-gloved fingers entwined the fingers of her attorney in a victory grip.

She walked to the jury box. Smiling, she thanked and shook hands with each of the seven men and five women jurors.

"I told the truth and the truth is easy to tell," said the Viennese-born star of "Ecstasy" at 15, and later a score of films including "Algiers," "Heavenly Body" and "Dishonored Woman."

The truth, the prosecution said, was that she stole 18 items — clothing, cosmetics, etc. — worth a total of $86 from the May Co.'s Wilshire Boulevard department store last Jan. 27.

A woman employee made a citizen's arrest of her as she left the store. Miss Lamarr testified Monday she had gone out to look for her business manager, planned to pay for the items all at once, and added: "I never did intend to steal."

The charge was petty theft.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

Where The Action Is

It's natural, of course, that most stockholders are interested only in dividends and profits. If you don't think this is true, that perhaps there is pride involved in being part owner of a big corporation, then it's time you attended an annual stockholders' meeting.

Hal Humphrey

Some 400 shareholders in CBS assembled at the network's Studio Center film facility (formerly Republic Studios) last week for the second annual meeting to be held by CBS outside of New York. The only other time CBS executives put their annual report meeting on the road it also was in Hollywood four years ago.

From a layman's or non-shareholder's view this annual meeting was quite dull.

AS ONE OBSERVER put it, "Paley spoiled it right off by telling them the good news about this being the company's best first quarter ever, but you should've seen last year's session when profits weren't so hot as the year before."

He was referring to the peering which board chairman William S. Paley and president Frank Stanton took from stockholders angered by the network's purchase of the New York Yankees ball club and Jackie Gleason's $350,000 circular glass mansion. The latter buy was to keep Jackie in the CBS fold.

This year nobody bothered to ask what lure the network used to keep Jackie, and although the Yankees started off the current season in a slump there were no questions from the floor about that division of the corporation.

Last year, too, there was a considerable flap kicked up by shareholders unhappy about alleged mismanagement charged against James Aubrey, who had been fired from his presidency of CBS-TV and who along with CBS and Aubrey's Richelieu Productions is still the target of a stockholders' lawsuit.

Because of the legal wrangle, CBS attorneys instructed Paley not to answer questions about Aubrey and his administration or what cash settlement was made on him. It was reported to be $1.5 million.

INTERESTINGLY, only one question came from a shareholder this time who wanted to know how much of a settlement CBS News president Fred Friendly received when he resigned last February. He was told Friendly got $410,000 to be paid out mostly in annual equal installments over a 15-year period. The difference in severance monies is considerable at CBS when one quits instead of being fired, and of course pension money also was included in both cases.

The shareholder asking about Friendly seemed satisfied, and no one asked management if its decision to accept Friendly's resignation could be considered inimical to the network's position in the news business. With first-quarter profits translated into 73 cents a share, no shareholder at this meeting felt management had committed any wrongs.

PALEY WAS ASKED about a picket seen in front of the studio and upon saying he didn't know who it was, the picket himself (now without placard) stood up and identified himself as a severed employee from Fender Guitar (another acquisition of CBS) who felt he'd been fired without just cause and wanted an audience. "Well, you've got it now," said Paley, who quickly asked if there were any more shareholders who wanted to ask questions.

John Gilbert, who has been called a professional shareholder and who makes a business of attending annual meetings to heckle the brass, was not in town for the CBS powwow.

He, too, probably figured that things were too good at CBS. Last August he managed to turn the Desilu Productions, Inc. meeting into a comedy shambles which became so wild that Desilu's president, Lucille Ball, retreated to the ladies' room but not before sarcastically asking shareholder Gilbert if she had his permission.

It's too bad someone hasn't had the imagination to turn cameras on these who's-got-the-profits festivals and make them into pilots for TV series. Rod Serling's "Patterns" drama on Kraft Theater years ago was a pink tea compared to the intrigue going on these days in the real business world.

Maybe educational TV stations could make use of such material, except that things are pretty predatory now in that circle, too.

Tax Office Continues

Processing Of Forms

The city income tax office still is busy processing returns filed before the deadline April 15 for final reports on 1965 income and estimates of 1966 earnings. Tax Commissioner D. G. Wilkinson said today.

Approximately 250 pieces of mail containing returns still are awaiting processing, Wilkinson said. He estimated that 200 to 250 individuals failed to file the required final reports on 1965 income.

Notices will be mailed to delinquents as soon as the staff finishes processing of the returns, the commissioner said.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Troubled Children Aided At School

In articles, books and from the air or the platform you may have heard much about the emotionally disturbed school child.

Some times called the troubled child. A few of you may have supposed or felt sure, "That's my child." As you read and hear more about Dr. Garry Myers this type of child you may sometimes be confused. The description of a child by one expert as "emotionally disturbed" or "troubled" may be different from and include far more children than the description of an emotionally disturbed child by another expert.

Most of us can see that some children who don't seem to fit happily into the usual school or home program need deeper understanding and treatment than the types of exceptional children whom most perceptive teachers and parents are familiar with.

THE PSYCHIATRISTS and psychologists seem most able to identify the emotionally disturbed child and to guide other persons in his best treatment. So, many school systems employ a psychiatrist in addition to a psychologist.

A significant book has recently appeared, "Teaching the Troubled Child," by George T. Donahue, Ed.D. and Sol Nichter, M.D. (The Free Press, a division of The Macmillan Company, 60 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10011). These authors estimate that there are in the United States "more than half a million seriously disturbed children, the victims of congenital defects, brain damage, or personality disturbance."

Their book reports what the public schools of Elmont, New York, have done for troubled children there. Elmont is a middle-class suburb of New York City. Most of its 50,000 people are housed in private dwellings, mostly priced in today's market between $15,000 to $25,000.

THE BOOK reports what may be done when the educator, psy-

Red China Army Seen Converted Into Labor Force

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China's three-millionman army has been converted into a huge labor force, a Swedish motion picture cameraman said here after spending six months on the mainland.

"Everywhere you go soldiers are building roads, bridges and factory buildings," Wayland Wieslander told newsmen. "Those who aren't in construction work are laboring in the fields alongside the peasants."

Despite the massive work program, the soldier apparently is not excused from a full program of military training.

"Throughout China," Wieslander said, "the Red army is in constant training. Because the army takes on this tremendous work load, the soldier gets a lot of respect from both the city worker and the peasant."

Wieslander, who first visited China in 1953, said progress there had been very impressive. "The country is still very poor but everyone is taken up with the idea of building for the future — even if they know it's beyond their lifetime," he said.

"Thirteen years ago, when I visited there, I never saw a soldier in the mud digging the ground with the peasant — now it's different."

Youngstown Sheet Says Earnings Down

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Business has been better so far in 1966 than anticipated several months ago, but first-quarter earnings are below the year-ago level, the president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. told stockholders at their annual meeting Tuesday.

For the three months ended March 31, net income was $10 million or 94 cents a share, on sales of $179.5 million, Robert E. Williams reported. This compared with $15.3 million or $1.45 a common share, earned on $221 million in revenues in the first quarter of 1965.

Williams said it is no longer feared inventory liquidation will affect steel shipments well into the second quarter.

Killed In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reports that Army Sgt. Robert K. Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Adams, of Tarentum, Pa., has been killed in action in Viet Nam.

chologist and psychiatrist team up and "when the community mobilizes its resources to help, not with money, but with space, people and schools." The Elmont Jewish Center contributed extra classroom space and the Kiwanis Club, some financial support.

The authors report a tested program for the education of troubled children within a regular school system with the aid of teacher-moms. Most significant in the program are mothers who have done a good job as parents. They contributed two mornings a week working under the supervision of the school's professional staff. The project began with 12 teachers—reaching six children, since increased to 38 teacher-moms and 11 children.

The teacher-mom meets the child on his arrival for school and stays with or near him the rest of the school morning, helping him in his group or individual work. She is free to decide what may be done for the child, or to change his program as she sees fit, but gets help from the teacher in charge. What the teacher-mom brings to the child is her own emotional climate — that of an affectionate, understanding mother. The book devotes a whole chapter to the teacher-mom, a unique kind of person in the classroom.

THE PROGRAM has been in operation for five school years, reaching a total of 31 "troubled" children at one time or another. Of these, 21 have been returned successfully to regular classrooms, one hospitalized, and one moving from the school district to attending a regular class part-time. It's an inspiring success story.

Some who read this book, observing how many special teachers the regular schools of Elmont has, may say that this kind of program might not work so well in the average school; so it might not, but it obviously has great possibilities.

Other critical readers may say: "Why all this special and human effort devoted to just a few children?" You and I answer: It is an example of the sensitivity of all those participating, to the belief that every child is precious and to the ideal that he should be provided by the community with the best possible opportunities for development. I found "Teaching the Troubled Child" a heart-warming book.

GOLD

THE GOLDEN MASK OF TUT-ANK-AMON

GOLD BRICKS STACKED IN A VAULT

The Class Ring has real class

Caution watch

QUESTION: Where did gold come from? Why is it so precious?

ANSWER: Liquids and gases, bubbling up from the earth's interior, are believed to deposit gold in cracks and fissures. It is a beautiful metal with a most attractive sheen and color. It can be easily worked, resists chemicals, does not rust or tarnish. Yet there is something about gold which makes it desirable beyond its physical qualities. In search of this something men, have dreamed of gold, have fought their way over deadly deserts and crossed bitter oceans and have given their lives to gain it. This something is the general agreement among men that gold is the most precious substance, that it should stand as a standard of value by which other things are valued. Gold stands for that which is most precious. Egyptians Pharaohs had their portraits made of it, to insure that the highest respect would be paid to them in the afterlife. And one of the proudest moments in a young person's life is when he first slips on his gold class ring, gold because it symbolizes the precious quality of the knowledge he has worked so very hard to attain.

FOR YOU TO DO: If you don't already know, find out what the Golden Rule is, use it and notice the golden glow it gives you.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, April 27, the 117th day of 1966. There are 248 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1521, Ferdinand Magellan—the first man to circle the earth—was killed by natives in the Philippines.

On this date

In 1791, Samuel F. B. Morse—the inventor of the telegraph—was born.

In 1822, Ulysses S. Grant, the 18th president of the United States, was born.

In 1939, Gen. George Marshall was appointed chief of staff of the U.S. Army.

In 1945, American and Russian troops met at the Elbe

River, thus cutting Germany in two.

In 1946, Italy's strongest political party — The Christian Democrats—expressed its preference for a republic instead of a monarchy.

Ten years ago—Rocky Marciano, undefeated world heavyweight boxing champion, announced his retirement from the ring at the age of 31.

Five years ago — It was announced that the Russian Orthodox Church had applied for membership in the World Council of Churches.

One year ago — President Johnson congratulated the steel workers union and the steel industry for reaching a contract agreement and averting a strike.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I chuckled when I read the letter from the woman who said she loved to listen to her husband snore. I'm with her — but for another reason. When my husband is snoring he is not grinding his teeth. Teeth-grinding cannot be described to a person who has not heard it. The closest I can come is to compare it to the sound of a piece of chalk going the wrong way on a blackboard.

My husband went to see a doctor about it last year — at my insistence. The doctor gave him some tranquilizers. They didn't help. The doctor then suggested that I take the tranquilizers. I always have hated to take medicine and I resent having to be on tranquilizers when it is my husband who has the problem. Please comment on this ridiculous situation and offer some advice.—MRS. COUNT-DOWN.

Dear Mrs. Count: My dentist tells me your husband has a common affliction which is known by a fancy name—bruxism. He also says you won't be bothered much longer because soon your husband will have no teeth.

Until then, move into the extra bedroom if you have one. If not, flip a coin to see who gets the cot in the kitchen. It's stupid to take tranquilizers when you can get a natural night's sleep by putting some distance between you and the old grinder.

Too Soon, Old

Dear Ann: I'm 19 and feel like 101. Here's my problem: I hold down a full-time job and pay room and board. I also do all the washing and ironing and housecleaning for this family of four. I prepare my dad's lunches and get his work clothes ready. He works nights. Mom and I work days.

I know Mom is tired when she comes home, but I'm tired, too. Am I wrong to feel that she should pitch in and help me? After all, this is her house, not mine.

The real problem is my leisure time. I'm not a run-around type but I would like to accept a date on Saturday night. My mother feels I must stay home and baby-sit with my little brother because she and Dad like to go out Saturdays.

I resent being denied a weekend date. After all, my brother is not my child.

I could move out, but the folks need the financial help. Please advise—A.M.U.

Dear A.M.U.: Even without modern math I can count three pay checks in your family of four. It doesn't seem reasonable that your mother and Dad are so hard up that they can't afford to pay a sitter one night a week.

Tell your mother she can no longer count on you as a Saturday night sitter. You have earned your free weekend evening and you should insist on it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Theft And Vandalism Reported At Auto Lot

Parts were stolen from several 1966 model autos and others were damaged in vandalism Monday night or Tuesday morning at the Broadway lot of the Mike Turk, Inc., auto agency, police were advised yesterday.

The intruder broke a vent window on one of the autos and then removed an arm rest from its mounting on the inside of the door, officers said.

The loss also included a battery, two radiator caps and an oil "breather" cap, officers said.

Today 70 per cent of the total U.S. male population uses aftershave lotion, 70 per cent uses deodorant and 50 per cent uses talcum powder, according to a spokesman for the toiletries industry.

Funeral Set Friday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Funeral services will be held Friday for Mrs. Frank A. Knowlan, who sought the Republican nomination to the state House in the 145th district. Mrs. Knowlan, 55, died Tuesday in Grand View Hospital in Sellersville, Pa. She was unopposed in her bid for the Upper Bucks County House seat. She had been vice chairman of the County Republican Committee.
